We Worked, Played, and Created

The 10,800 volumes of our library provided reference and enjoyment as we worked toward improved scholarship.

Arm in arm we paraded in the Grand March of the Autumn Prom, just one of the many times we shared fun together.

Arts and Crafts class gave us the environment in which to create and express our inner thoughts with material objects.

Our School Doors Swung Wide

As We Crossed the Threshold of Learning

We opened the door, climbed the stairs, and walked the halls of KHS together this year. With our hearts bubbling with anticipation and enthusiasm, we plunged into each new day. We thrilled to discover that the geometry proposition we solved together last night was correct; we shared the excitement of try-outs after classes; we all endeavored to perfect that new play the coach showed us; and we blushed to see that special grin from a certain someone. However, there were times that we were somewhat reluctant to climb those steps. Maybe that exam really had us worried, or perhaps those grade cards would considerably limit our leisure time for the next six weeks. But our worries were quickly forgotten with that hearty slap on the back, and obstinate problems diminished before our eyes after talking them over with a friend. Together we accepted the variety of opportunities for growth that KHS offered; and by doing so, we experienced a companionship with teachers and students which gave to each of us knowledge, poise, and the joy of social well being. That is what made this year ours.

Combined Enthusiasm of Teachers and Students

The vocational building supplied 900 pupils with valuable industrial knowledge that will earn salaries next year.

Mr. Chet Thompson instructed these industrial arts students toward the skills required to operate the 30,000 dollars worth of shapers, lathes, and milling machines in our machine shop.

Made Classes Interesting and Rewarding

The skill, wisdom, and excellent direction given to Marcia Aldridge and many other art students by Miss Bernice McKinley typifies the fine work done by our faculty.

The friendliness of Miss Dorothy Thornburgh almost made English bearable for Mabel Goldsberry and many other students. Certainly her fine guidance as a counselor will always be remembered.

It wasn't unusual to see a scurry of galloping scholars in the halls just before the final bell. Occasionally, we could even spot a teacher tripping around the corner in an attempt to reach the classroom before that buzz of conversation seeped into the corridor—we all had so much to talk about during the five-minute break between classes. Having finally situated ourselves and our belongings in the habitual position for the session, we were quickly enveloped by the engrossing task of conquering new frontiers of learning. We learned so much in our classrooms—we learned to study individually and together; we learned to work together; we learned to apply our knowledge and our experiences together to improve our ability to adjust to society. Our growth together was greatly advanced by the daily events in our classrooms.

We Proved Our Loyalty by Backing . . .

The fourth largest gymnasium in the state provided many exciting hours to all of us as we attended dances and athletic events.

Coach Joe Platt and Muncie's Jay McQuery talk over old times spent at I. U. (when basketball was really basketball) and compare starting line-ups before the big game.

. . . The Wildcats at Every Game

On Friday evenings we shared popcorn and excitement together while watching our gridiron heroes go into action.

We wanted to help tackle that fullback! We wanted to give that shot-put a mighty heave! We wanted to drop that ball in the bucket or grab that rebound. But we were assigned our positions in the grandstand, a position we filled together, a position we filled enthusiastically and punctually for each game. Even if the odds looked big, we cheered our team onward. Yes, our job was a big one, but together we did our job well.

The sideline strategy of Coaches Robert Hamilton and Robert Bushong paid off as the 37 members of the varsity completed a 8-3 season.

We United in Activities

So much to do, so much to plan, and so much to enjoy! Beneath the seeming whirl of activity we worked and planned to make everything "the best—ever!" Using our talents, vigor, and skills, we strove for perfection in everything we did.

The enjoyment of proud parents, teachers, interested neighbors, and fellow students echoed our pleasure as we learned the rewards of companionable working.

It was thrilling—seeing the finished product, knowing that the accomplishment and praise was ours, having plays come to life because we had worked together to get those lines right, making dances veritable wonderlands because we had had that last minute brainstorm for the final touch. Yes, we had fun together.

The 22nd annual Girls' League Autumn Prom displayed skill and co-operation as they nicely executed the theme of Indian Summer.

That Provided Our Happiest Moments

Some of the characters gather around the jeep which George Franklin of the stage crew designed for Teahouse of the August Moon.
Hidden: Robert Weaver, Kay Cross, and Rebecca Reed.

Front: Billy Gilbertson (child), Richard Chegar (Captain Fisby), Marcia Aldridge (Old Woman's Daughter), Ed Seagrave (Sakini), Paul Hime-lick (Ancient Man) and Nanny Batata (goat).

Our biggest rewards came from the 4400 hands of the audience, who showed appreciation by waves of applause.

We worked up an appetite each day by hurrying to the cafeteria for a pole position in that all important line.

Our Gregarious Life Gave

At the change of semesters the office filled with somewhat puzzled students, but the capable administration worked to relieve the tension.

The Hi-Y and Y-Teens club members were responsible for preparing the after-game dances where we gathered to talk over the preceding contests.

Companionship and Growth Together

Were our spirits defeated? Were we low? Were we haunted by those routine blues? We always found a remedy in a party, a dance, a ball game, or just a gathering with the gang at the drugstore after school. We found that association with others gave spice to our life. We were surprised to hear our thoughts expressed in words by someone else, or to learn that others experienced our problems. We discovered that by knowing others we learned to know ourselves.

New auditorium seats provided nylon plush comfort in which to meet new friends as we returned to school after lunch.

Preparation for the Future

The cadet training program offered Wilma Briggs a chance to learn a few things from her Washington School second graders.

Our foresight for the future was indicated by various episodes in the halls of KHS—a student standing thoughtfully by his locker, mentally reviewing the evening of homework before him; the crowded counselor's office at the commencement of each semester; or a senior studying the scholarship bulletin board. We all worked and planned together. As freshmen, our senior year stood foremost in our minds; as seniors, our freshmen year in college or that new job proved to be that all important goal. The sustained drive within us to realize that goal made the year one of our busiest.

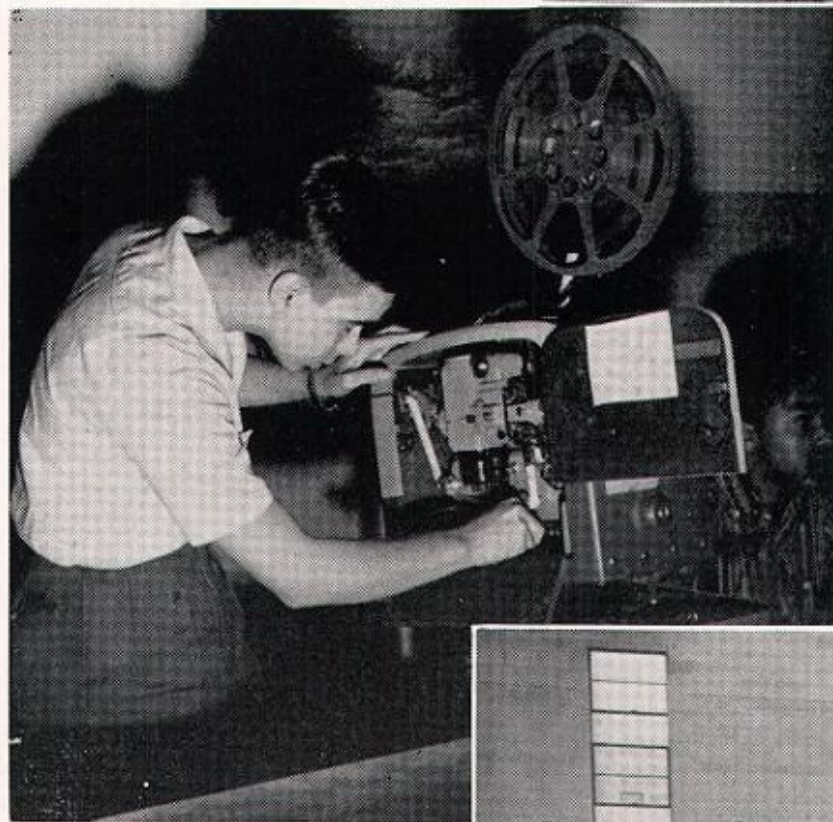

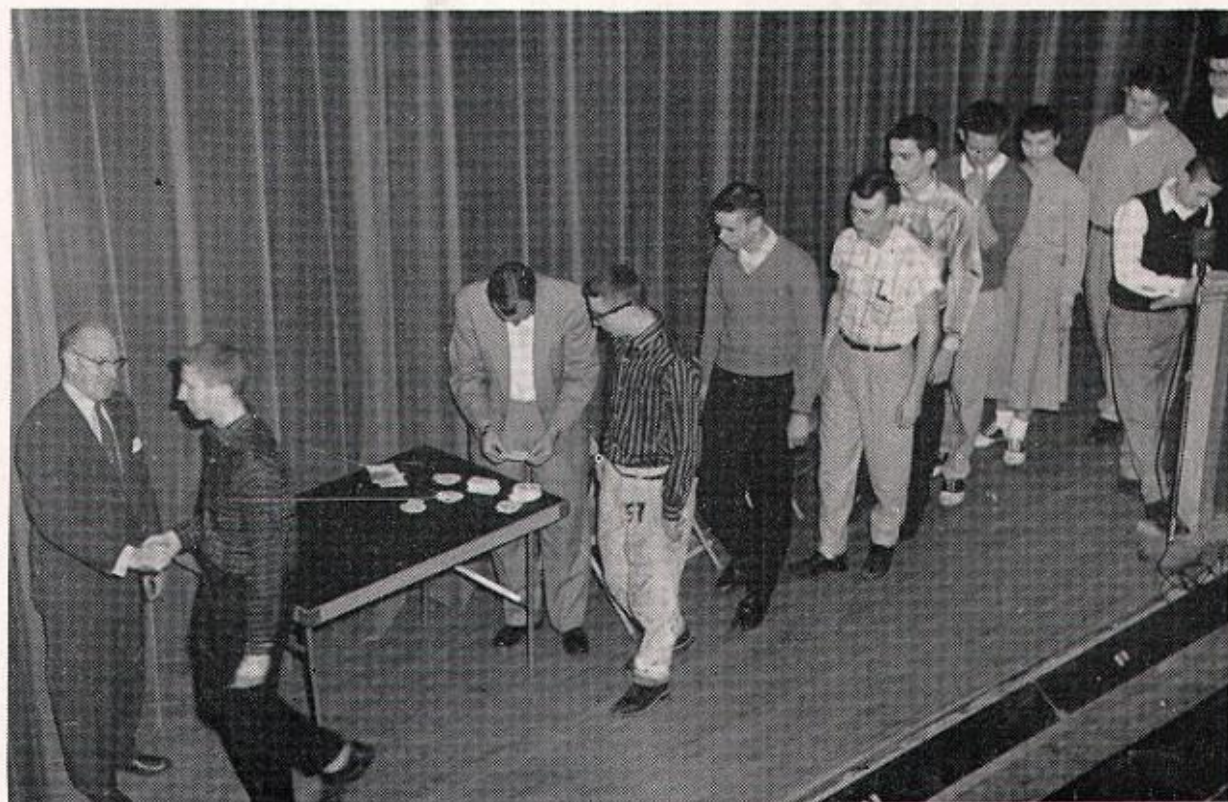

Kirsten Brandt, Exchange Student from Denmark, and Jerry Neal, our Exchange Student to Germany, point to their European homes, as they compare their experiences.

Stood Foremost in Our Minds

One hundred ninety safe drivers became pedestrians long enough to cross the stage and receive No-Acs awards for six months of violation-free driving.

Industrious boys found opportunity to learn as the Visual Aid Department offered new frontiers to operators.

With special pencils and busy minds, the Seniors devoted a morning toward college by taking the National Merit Scholarship Test.

And Excitement Filled Our Hearts

Standing in long gray lines in Memorial Gymnasium, ready to receive their diplomas, the graduates remember all the fun, knowledge, and guidance they have experienced.

As We Faced New Adventures Together

As we cross one milestone of our life, we pause to see another challenging us. That challenge is called the future—a new life with others, new responsibilities, and new important decisions to be made. Drawing from our memories of play and laughter, work and reward, and trial and error, we are able to realize the significance of our year together. We learn that the true source of happiness and success is derived from living together. With this realization, we feel sufficiently confident in saying that KHS has well prepared us to meet this challenge and to promote and maintain the democracy we so fully experienced in KHS. Wouldn't you like to read this story? Wouldn't you like to read the story with our life as its plot, our memories as its details, and our year as its climax? Just turn the page and we'll remember together.

We Prepared to Meet Our Future . . .

With the memories of lazy summer afternoons tucked away in their minds, approximately 2300 students of Kokomo High School bought books and supplies, and enrolled in classes for the school year of 1956-57. Each student was given expert counseling and guidance in choosing a course that suited him best.

The General Course was most popular, for it presented the students a chance to obtain a broader and more liberal education. Many students who had selected their future occupations enrolled in the Academic Course, the Commercial Course, the Home Economics Course, or the Vocational Course depending on their talents and interest. In addition, each course had electives offered as related subjects, and it was in these classes that many students were introduced to new and interesting phases of education.

In the following pages of this Sargasso, one may find an outline of each curriculum of study, whether it is the General, Academic, Commercial, Home Economics, or Vocational Course. A brief picture of the many electives taught at KHS is presented at the last of this section.

It is felt that KHS offers something special in classes to everyone.

"Let me see now, I know there's something in here on the engineering profession!" These three students, Steve Woolley, Jeff Stine, and Paulette Orem, are busy looking through the occupational files in the library for Orientation class.

Alice Burt and Mary Atkinson find that the valves and chambers of the heart are easily understood when the plastic dummies are used.

. . . By Studying in the General Course

Dissecting earth worms, studying microscopic organisms, and classifying the species of animals, these students are busy learning the principles of biology with the assistance of Mr. Cross.

"Look at that paramicium squirm!" exclaims an excited biology student while peering through his microscope.

Biology is the study of plant and animal life and to some three hundred freshmen and sophomores of Kokomo High School, biology class offers an opportunity for them to investigate the plant and animal kingdom.

They learn many interesting things when looking through microscopes at several of the world's microscopic plants and animals, and by dissecting animals to find the structure of their bodies.

Going on field trips gives pupils a chance to see nature first hand, even though they may come back covered with burrs and perhaps one or two of them may even have taken a fall into the creek.

Four capable teachers are responsible for these classes. They are Mr. Walter Cross, Mr. Charles Franklin, Mr. Joe Mullins, and Mr. Douglas North.

Charles Guy, Emily Burger, Robert Short, and Virginia Alaska plant coleuses and gladioli in Mr. Franklin's biology class.

With assistance from Kirsten Brandt (right), John Hutto (at map) is showing Fred Clevenger the city where their journey around the world is to begin.

Some Visit Foreign Lands

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could all board a plane together and fly to Bombay, Paris, Rome, or any other foreign port? Unfortunately, this is entirely impossible, yet many students have an opportunity to "visit" the world beyond our boundaries when they enter one of the Social Studies classes. Here, the student learns of the people of a country as well as its world position.

America has created an idea in government—Democracy. It is the responsibility of the present generation to uphold the high standards of freedom in America. That is why every graduating senior has had one year of Government. Although this is a required subject, students enjoy participating in the mock elections and serving on the many panels.

To make these classes vivid and more effective, there is a Social Studies laboratory supervised by Mr. Fred Mustard, head of the department. In this room there are displays on the various related topics of government and history.

These are just two of the different subjects offered as a part of the Social Studies Department. In addition, there are classes in American History, Economics, and Sociology, geared and provided to give each student in KHS a better understanding of his world and community.

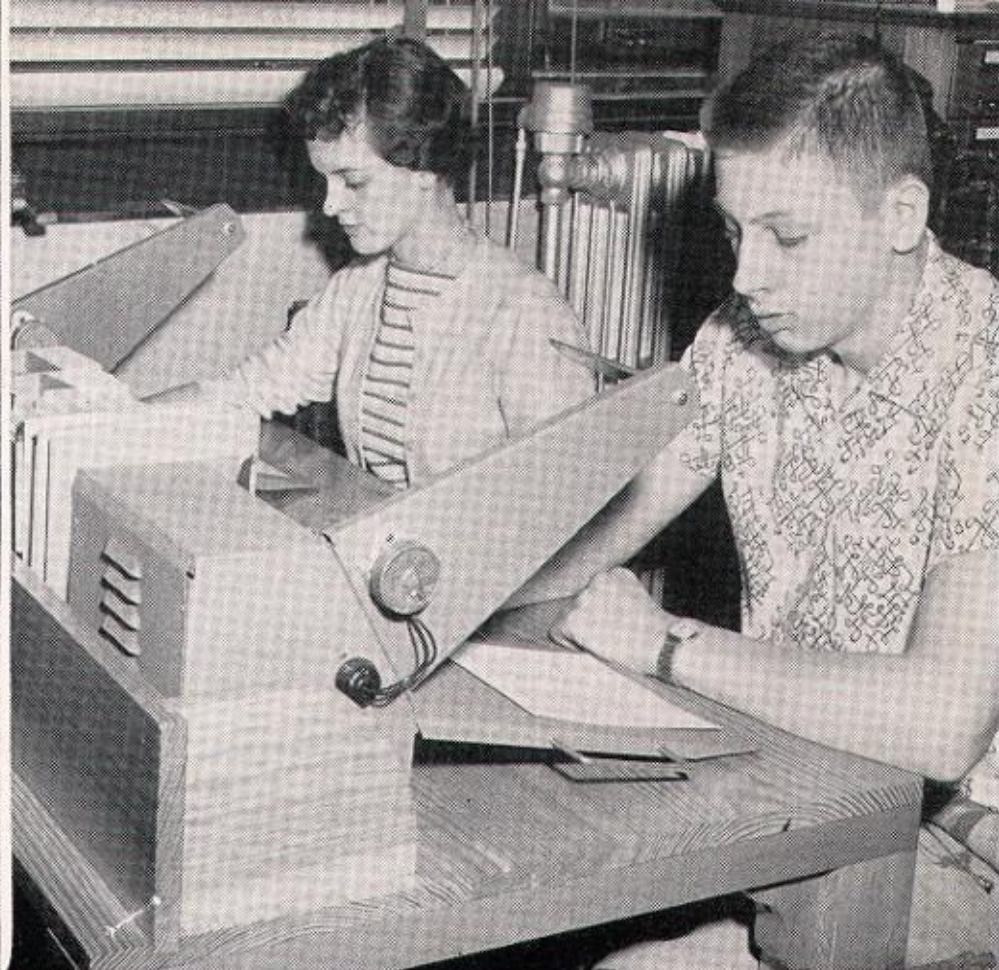

Sandra Land checks her name on the poll book with the assistance of Marcia Bitner. Sandra Suter and Marilyn Barngrover wait to distribute the ballots.

Larry Ellison, Carolyn Snow, Judy Penz, Russell Bergman, and Priscilla Johnson use a map of Treasure Island and a doll of Long John Silver to make their book reports more interesting.

Sondra Roe and Bob Thrasher find that the new reading machines are vital aids in improving their reading speed and skill.

While Others Study Our Native Tongue

Whoosh . . . ! That was a freshman dashing to his English class. They are discussing Dicken's Great Expectations today, and he hasn't read the second ending. Really, he's quite a good student and is able to distinguish between a prepositional phrase and an adverbial clause with very little difficulty.

Now here's a lovely scene! A sophomore girl is busy leafing through an Encyclopaedia Britannica. The ink spots on her nose and her crumpled hair show that she wants this to be the best book report ever presented.

What's this? A junior reciting Macbeth! Ah, yes, he is memorizing the lines of Shakespeare's great tragedy for literature class today.

There is really no need to look for any Senior Composition students in the hall—they are all in the library working on their term papers. They certainly have chosen interesting subjects . . . brainwashing, money, Salem witchcraft, to mention a few.

Perhaps you are wondering who I am. You may see me sponsoring the school newspaper as well as the Sargasso. You may find me backstage of any major production, and you may find me in a classroom everyday. I am the spirit of the English teachers of Kokomo High School.

With College Classes In View

"I got my application forms from Indiana!" "Hurray! I've been accepted at Ball State." These exclamations could be heard echoing through the halls of KHS in the spring as many seniors received their eagerly-awaited college data.

Many KHS students who planned to continue their education in college enrolled in the Academic Course. Although it was not the only plan for those who wished to further their studies, the academic section of the high school curriculum was offered with the idea of meeting requirements for college entrance. For this reason, classes in English, history, science, mathematics, and foreign languages were emphasized.

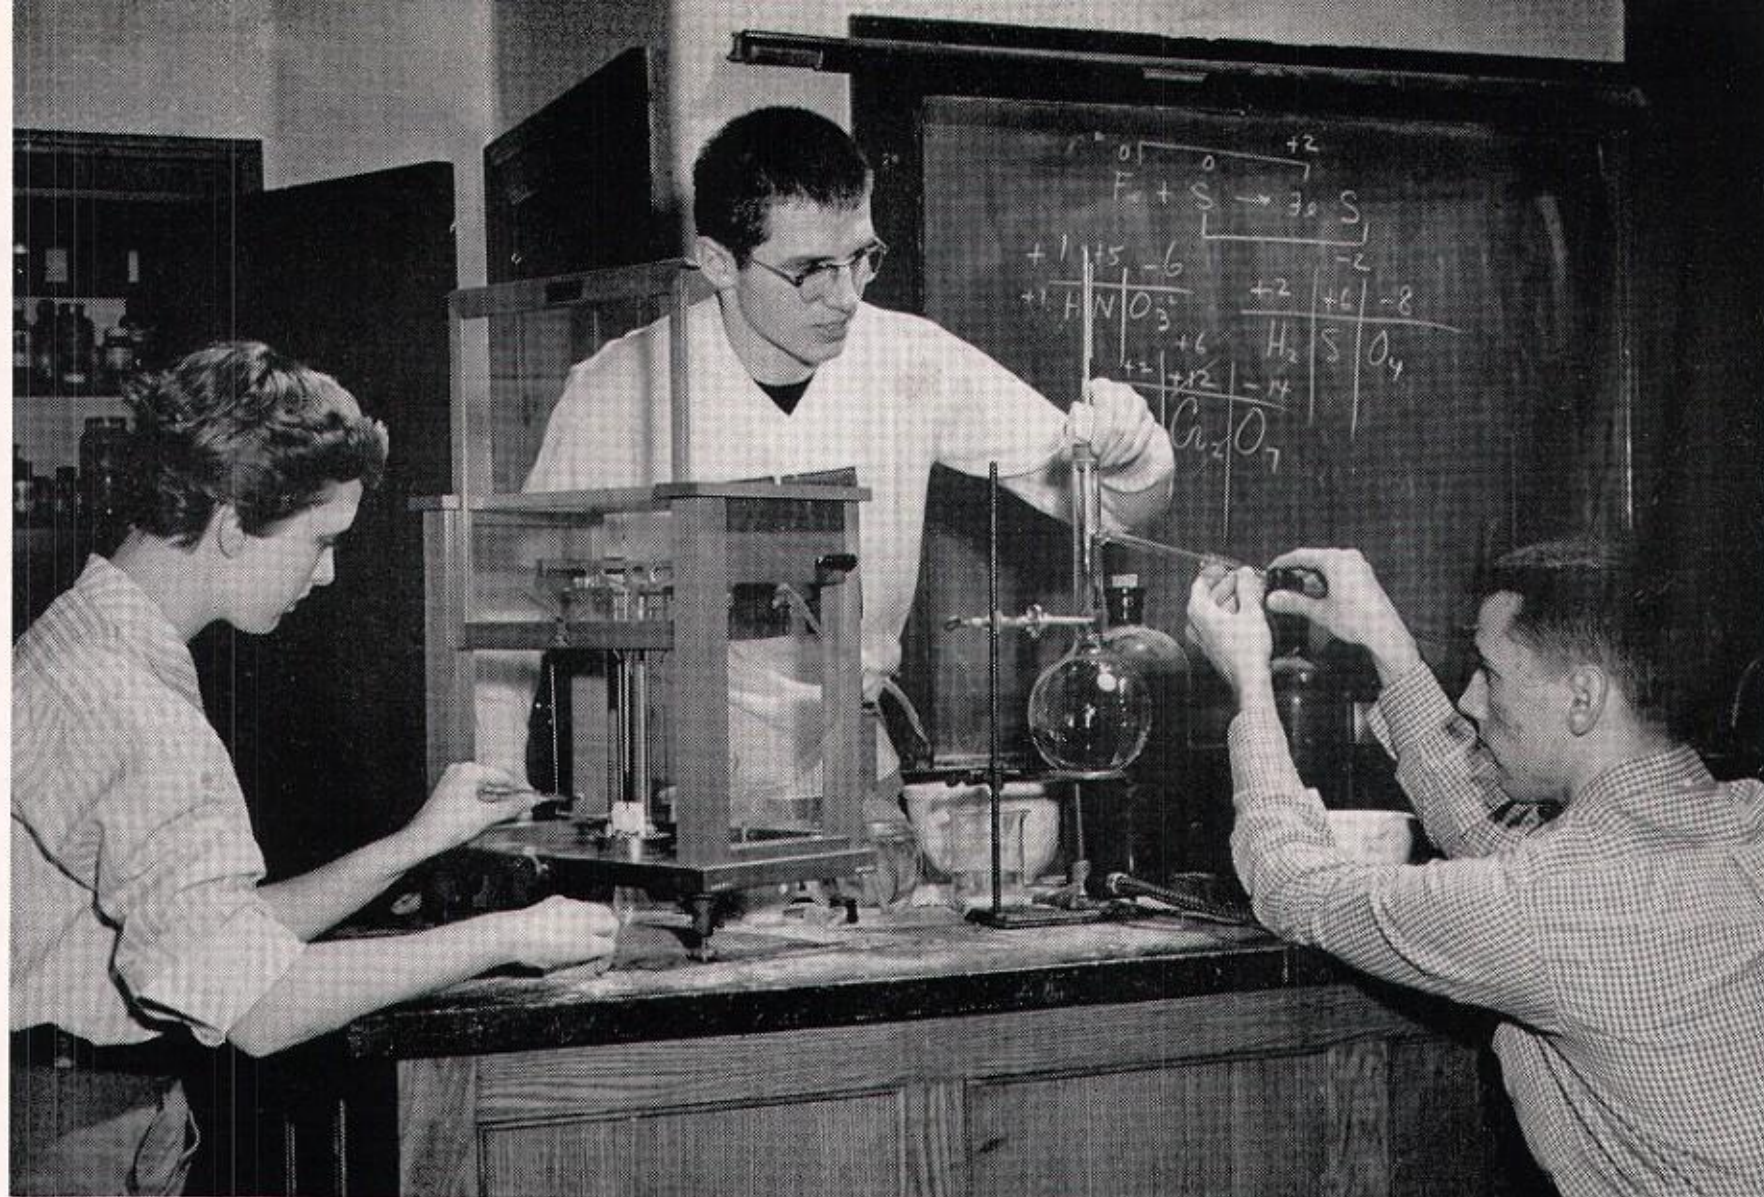

In the Academic Course, freshmen were required to take English, algebra, orientation, health, and physical education. Sophomores were enrolled in classes of English, geometry, world history, and the final semester of physical education. Juniors were required to include English, U.S. history, algebra, and solid geometry in their classes. Senior Government and 4B Composition were the only required subjects for seniors enrolled in the Academic Course.

After including electives such as foreign languages and advanced sciences in their education, some students of KHS realized that they were well prepared for college.

With chalk, erasers, string, and a straight edge, Bill Pinkston has constructed a circle and tangents A and B for the benefit of the other members of his Plane Geometry class.

With careful preparation, Paul Cossell (center) and Bob Coates (right) have set up a demonstration on distillation. Janet Hines is measuring one gram on the newly purchased balances.

Some Entered the Academic Course

On this huge mound of soil and rock, gases and elements, man is teaching his young the nature of the universe in chemistry classes and physics laboratories.

Supervised by Mr. Haven Jones and Mr. Douglas North, chemistry students in Kokomo High School learn to produce hydrogen, nitrogen, and oxygen. By using valances and the atomic theory, chemistry students work together to balance equations and learn to use a chemical "shorthand" in the laboratory. Many curious and penetrating odors flow from the lab in room 304, yet the chemistry students learn to use odors as a means of identification.

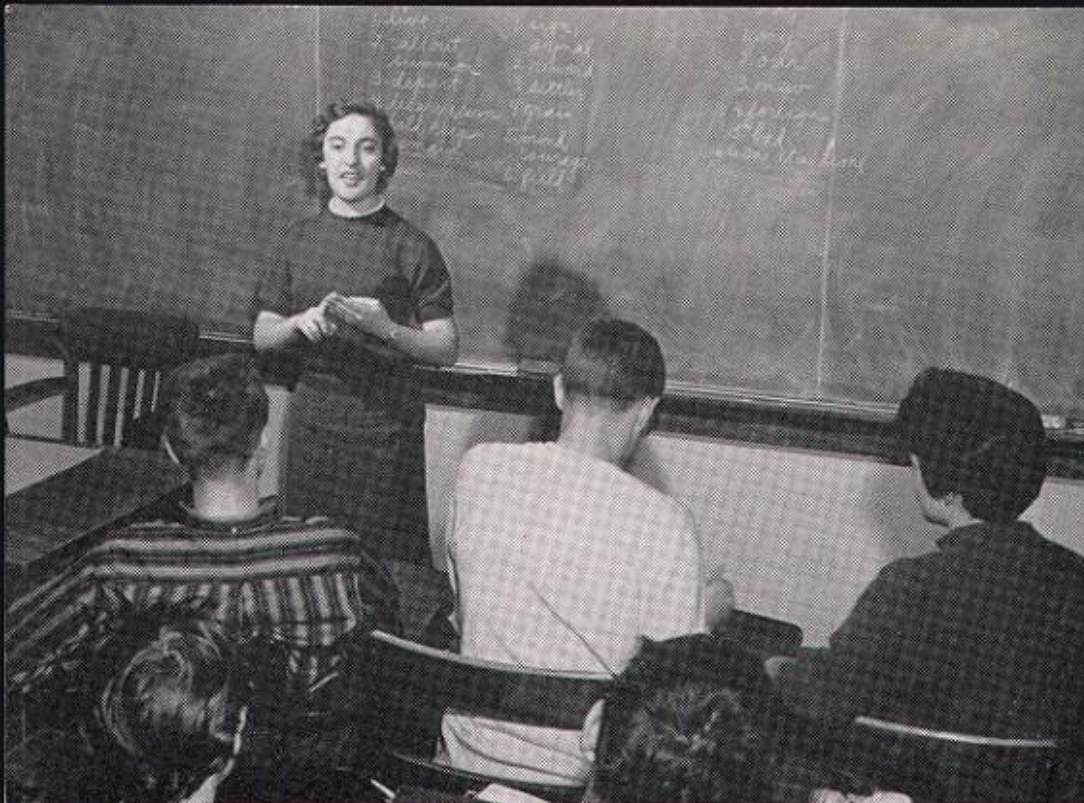

On the other hand, the physicists of KHS realize that gravitation is the force that causes an apple to fall "down" rather than "up." Assisted by Mr. Lory Coy, these students study the bases of all scientific knowledge. Among the many experiments, watching electricity jump gaps and measuring the force of a .22 caliber bullet stand out in the minds of physics students.

Although no Einsteins have emerged from the labs of KHS, many young men and women have gained a valuable knowledge of science, and have opened their minds to new fields of opportunity.

Ronnie Meyer, Phil Reynolds, Bill Patterson, George Franklin, and Don Rivers construct, examine, and calculate the practical applications of a system of pulleys used in the field of modern science.

Karlene Sciortino uses gestures to illustrate her points before a speech class.

We Learned To Express Ourselves

Zzatt . . . Zzatt! Don't be alarmed—that's just a Senior Composition student imitating a supersonic ray gun. He wrote his term paper on the wonders of outer-space and has become quite an expert on science fiction.

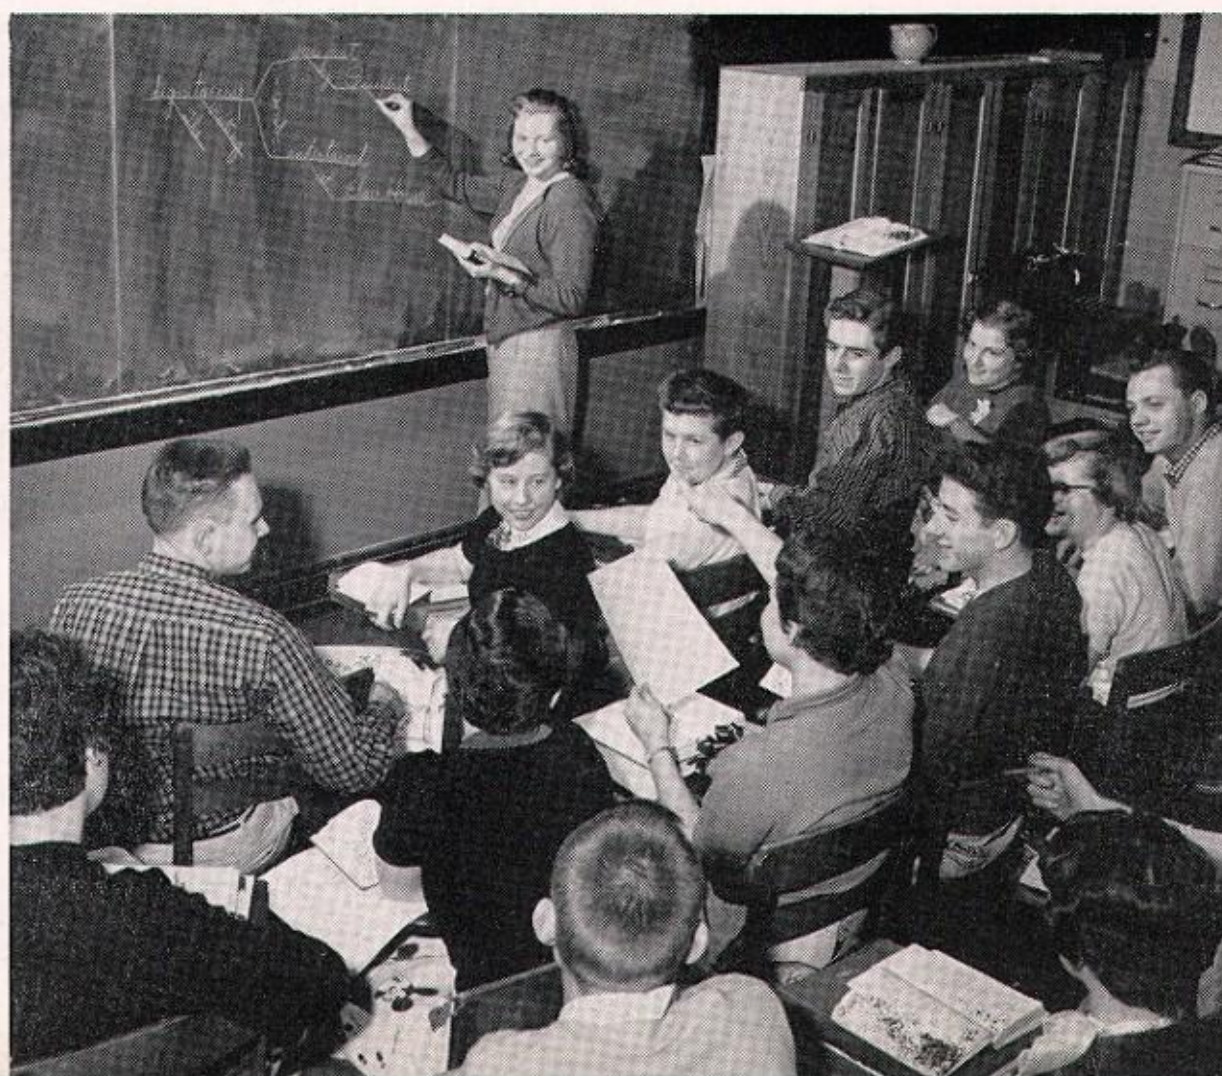

Writing a term paper was not the only thing done in Comp classes. There were the usual book reports to be given and themes to be written. In addition, there were lessons on vocabulary and the parts of grammar.

Although Composition is a part of the English Department, it is required only in the Academic Course.

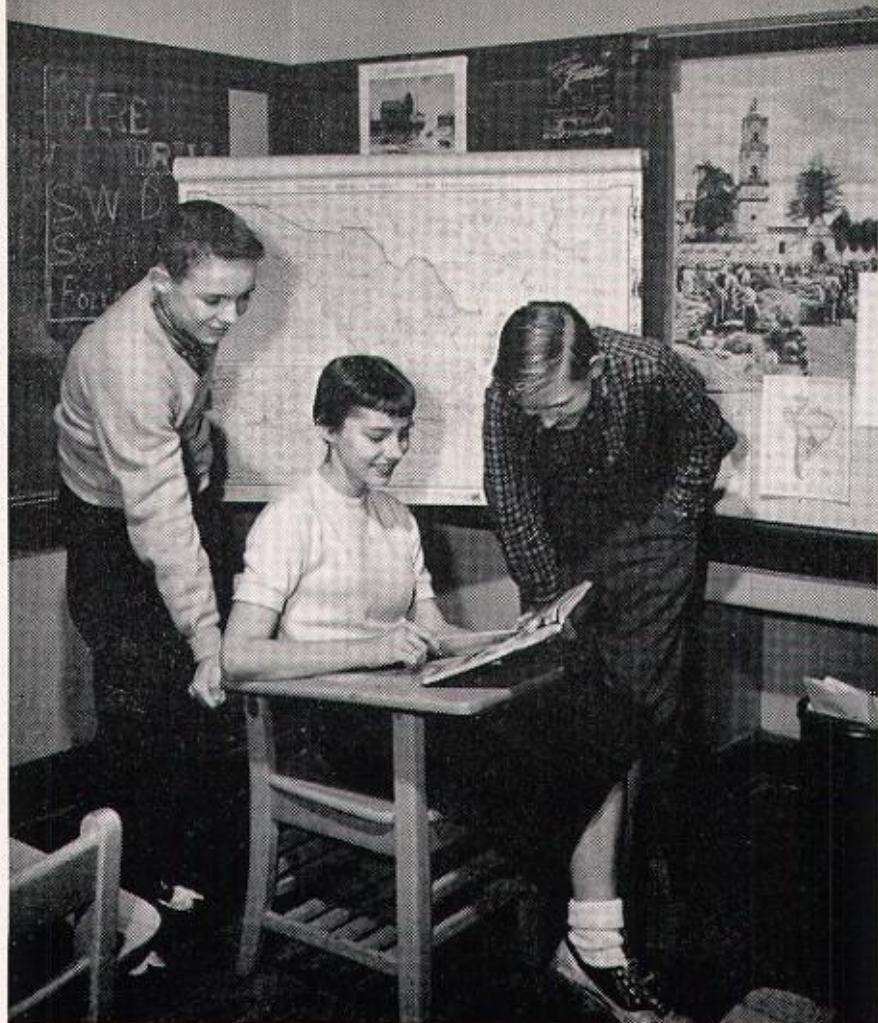

"Four score and seven years ago, our forefathers . . ." Those words are spoken and memorized in all phases of education; but when a speech student presents the Gettysburg Address before an audience, he knows how to apply gestures and facial expression to make it more effective.

Speech was offered this year as a one-semester course and gave many students a chance to become acquainted with speaking at public and private gatherings. Speech is an elective that may be included in each student's curriculum for a well-balanced course of study.

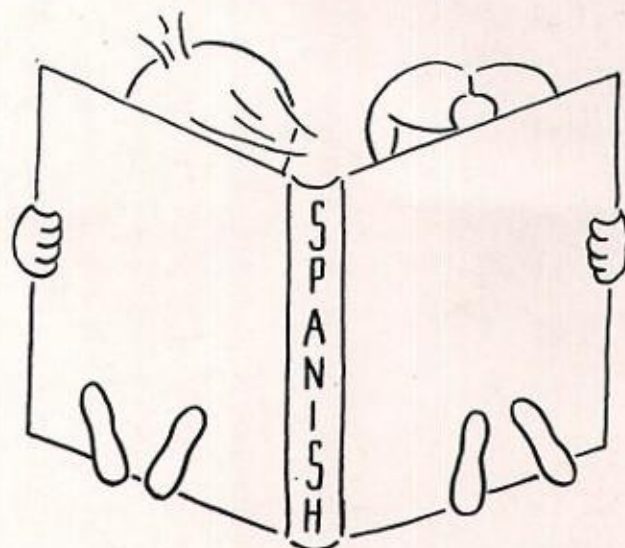

Janet Ulsh gives a helping hand to Joellen Middleton as she diagrams a compound sentence at the board.

"¿Como esta' usted?"-is one of the most frequently used questions in the Spanish language—it means, "How are you?" Taught by Miss Ruth Campbell and Mr. Urban Steckler, the classes in Spanish found that pictures and projects made this language more interesting. Shown at the left are Craig Lindley, Norma Cage, and Larry Weaver working on their projects.

Even In A Foreign "Lingua"

For those who preferred the language of the classics, Miss Helen Railsback and Mrs. Elsie Seagrave taught classes in Latin I and II. Gene Gatman points out to his classmates that all roads lead to Rome on the map held by Joan Shutt.

The Future Secretaries of Kokomo . . .

The noisiest classroom in dear old KHS is none other than 120A—the typing room—where the students turn-over per day is near 300. Typing is of course required for all Commercial students but is offered by popular demand to any student who wishes to eliminate the hunt, peck, and erase system.

Besides typing, other subjects required in the Commercial Course are general business, bookkeeping, shorthand, and office practice. Many students, boys and girls alike, are found in the general business and bookkeeping classes. The object here is to learn to keep accounting books and other phases of the business organization.

The shorthand classes are also filled to the brim with girls who want to learn the skill of speed writing.

Finally, all these talents are combined into a course called office practice. Here the students apply everything that they have learned by participating in the daily routine of an office.

The goal of the Commercial Department is to teach speed and accuracy in typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, and many other subjects related to our commercial world, to any student interested in a business career.

Many students labored long hours over the 50 typewriters used in the classrooms of 120 and 120A. They learned how to operate Underwoods, Royals, Remington-Rands, and Smith Coronas, and then occasionally they might have a chance to try the prized electric typewriter. Joan Fredrick finds that the eighth period is an excellent opportunity to do some practice typing.

. . . Enrolled in the Commercial Course

Sandra Smiley intently computes figures in this bookkeeping class.

Marilyn Payne explains the method of entering expenses to Jimmie Gilbreath, and at the chart Barbara Clingenpeel points out the adjustment column of a work sheet in bookkeeping class.

Marilyn Miller, Joyce Hurst, Betty Newman, and Nancy Miller operate dictaphones and type letters in office practice.

Many Girls Found Their Talents

Parties! Fancy rolls! Wedding cakes! Weddings! These are just a few of the subjects discussed and studied by the girls enrolled in the third-semester Foods class. This was offered in the spring semester by the Home Economics Department as an experiment to teach young homemakers how to meet and prepare for special occasions.

The first two semesters of cooking are devoted to the foods and their nutrition. Some of the sixty girls who took this course prepared a luscious dinner in the sparkling clean kitchenettes, used the spotlessly white stoves and sinks, the washers and dryers, and even operated the dishwasher.

Other subjects offered in the Home Economics course are Sewing, Home Management, and Home Nursing. Headed by Mrs. Arcille Overton, the Home Economics Department gives the girls interested in a well planned and managed home, the necessary knowledge and know-how.

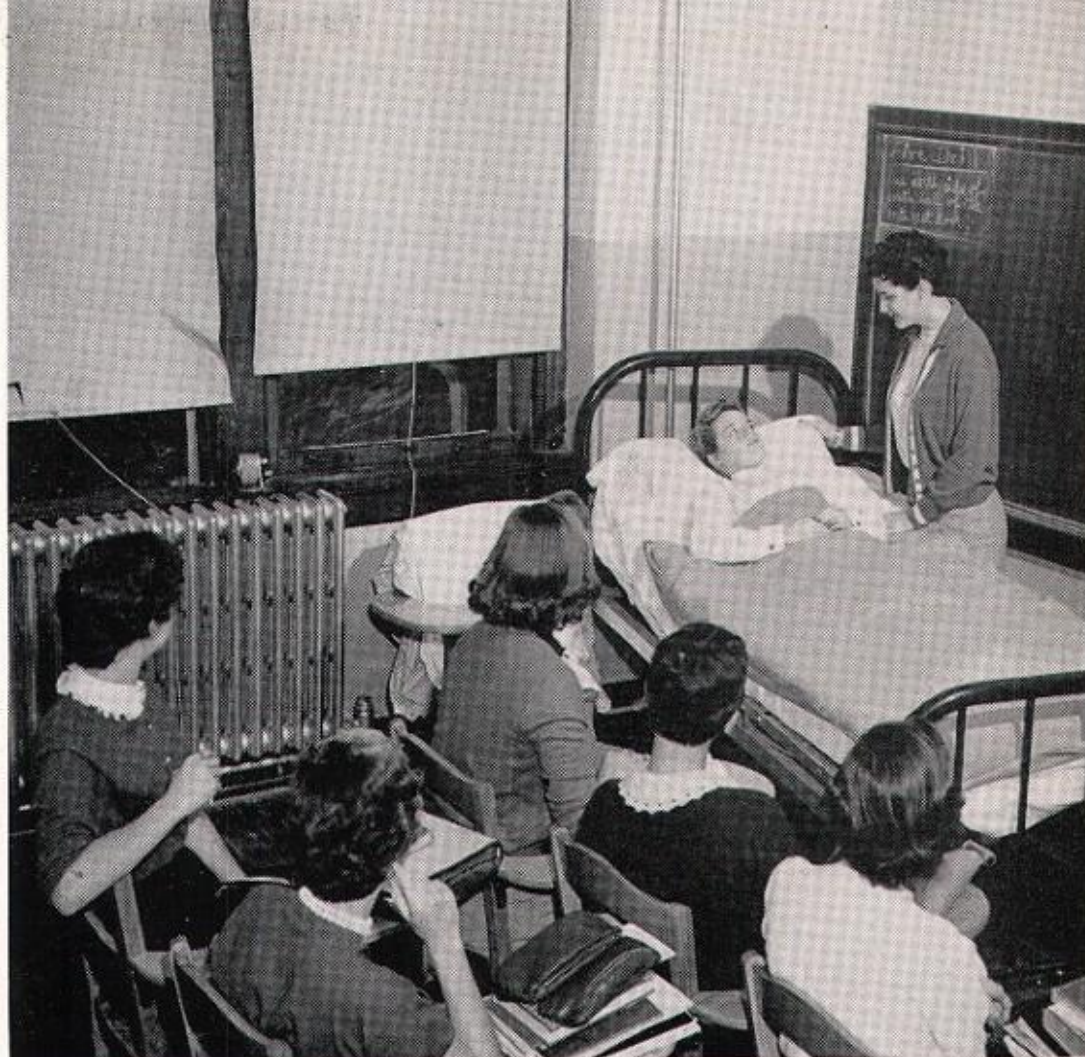

Ummm . . . Hungry? These lucky girls will soon be feasting on delicious hamburgers as they learn their lesson in food preparation and presentation.

In Homemaking

Could you change the bed linen of an invalid? That is just one of the techniques taught to the members of Mrs. Arcille Overton's Home Nursing class. Phyllis Baker puts the finishing touches on her demonstration and the comfortable invalid, Sondra Payton, smiles at her "nurse."

Talented members of Mrs. Greenlee's sewing class work diligently on their new fall wardrobes.

The Vocational Course Taught

Do you think that the inside of an automobile motor is a baffling and complex system of gadgets? The boys who take auto-mechanics are able to explain the functions of each part, in addition to knowing how the parts are assembled. Auto mechanics is just one of the subjects presented as a part of the Vocational Course.

Other subjects offered are related math, physical science, radio, drafting, printing, cabinet making, and arts and crafts. All of these subjects were organized in a course best to prepare each boy for a future in industry.

In the junior and senior years, the boys take one subject for three periods a day. This gives them a chance to work on projects and takes the place of homework. There were approximately 280 boys enrolled in the Vocational Course at KHS this year.

Brenda Magealson, William Fleenor, Maggie Hollis, and James Parker use the skills they learned in Mr. Maurice Mann's arts and crafts class to make metal trays and silver rings, porcelain ash trays, and countless other useful objects of art.

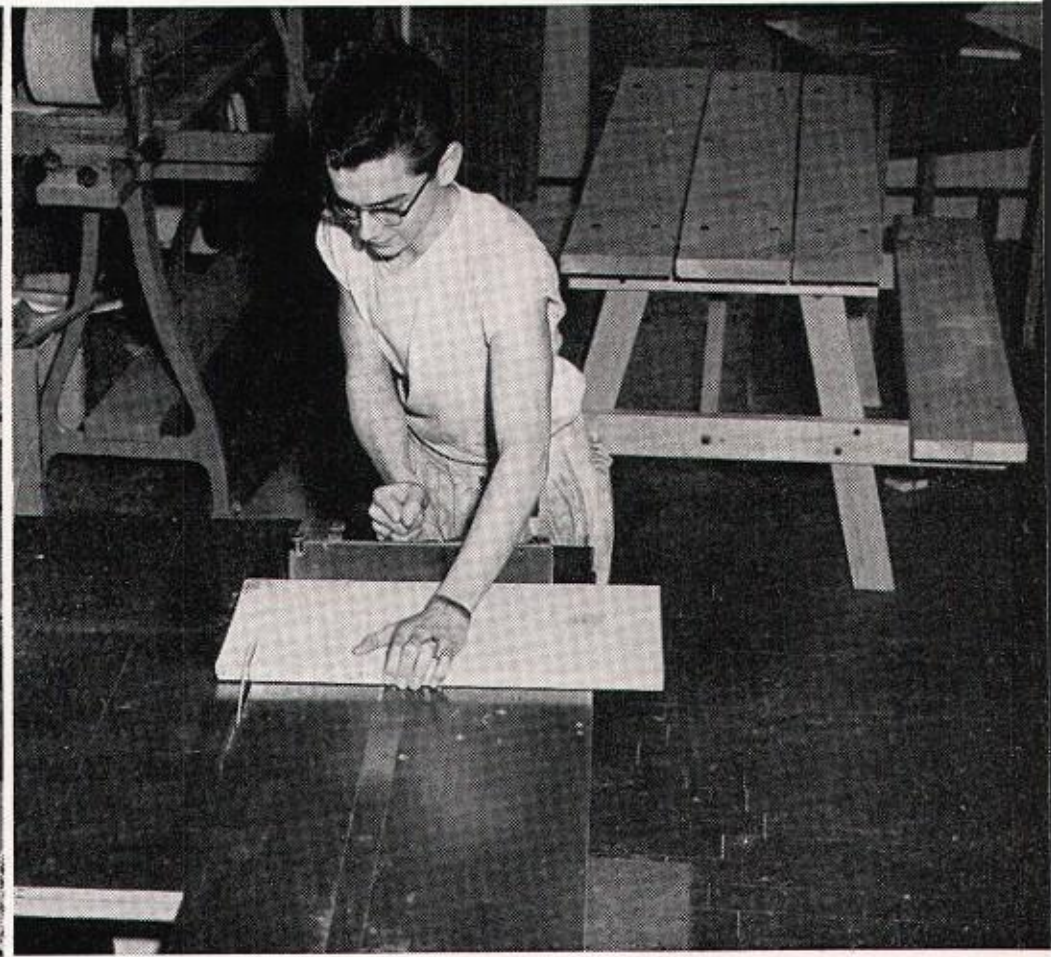

Deeply engrossed in their work, these three boys are mending and working in metal products in welding class. They may even repair some of the parts used in auto mechanics.

Drawing an orthographic projection is just one of the skills a person learns in drafting. These boys are beginning their first major draft in Mr. Frank Moore's class.

Jack Kaufman is shown putting the finishing touches on his project in the woodshop. He has measured the exact size of the board needed and is now cutting it on a power saw.

Perfection In Manual Skills

These four boys are not only re-conditioning this automobile but gaining a valuable lesson in auto mechanics.

Paula Akeman (center) and Mona Balser (right) tread water beside Peggy Gentry as she demonstrates proper form in stroking and breathing to the 1st period swimming class.

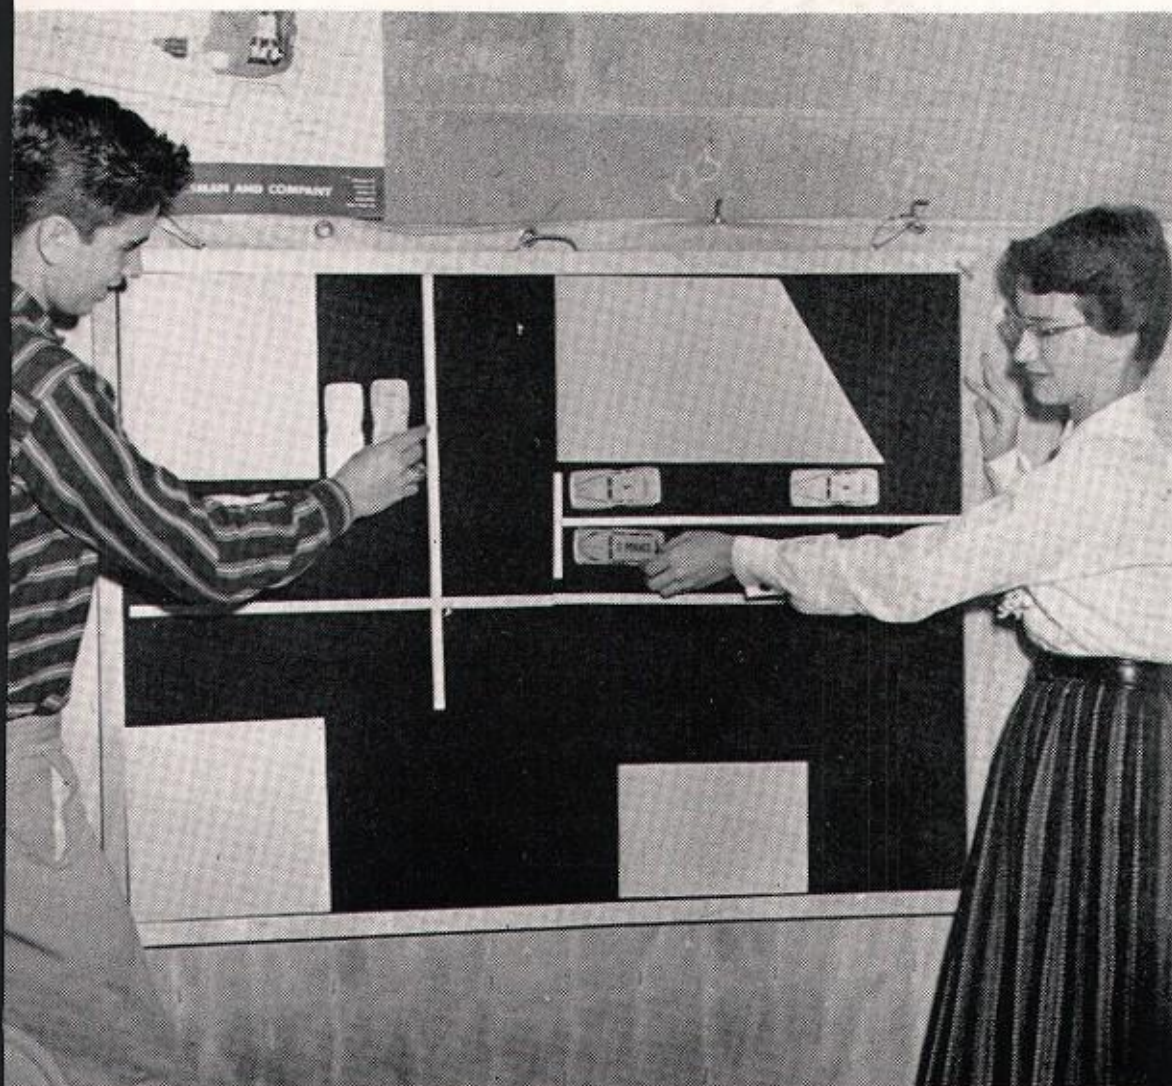

It's up and over for Jerry Basham as he does some exercises on the bar for the physical education class. Aiding him is Chuck Woolley.

A Little Exercise Was Included Too

When the warm spring days began turning young people's fancies to hikes, picnics, and golf courses, it was possible to find many students of KHS on their way to the tennis courts in Foster Park or to the "Y" swimming pool. They were not special people, just those who were taking physical education or swimming. Taught by Mr. Frank Overton, Mr. Gene Turner, and Mr. Robert Bushong, the boys' phys ed classes exercised many hours on the track and practice field. The girls' phys ed classes, taught by Miss Imogene Winslow and Mrs. Marilyn Friedrich, played tennis and field hockey. Handling the swimming classes at the YMCA each Tuesday and Thursday was Mrs. Friedrich.

Four semesters of physical education (the girls may substitute five semesters of swimming) were required for graduation, and many students found that this was the rest from mental activity that was needed to make every class more enjoyable.

The scene of the accident! Was the blue car or the red car at fault? Jerry Clark and Carol Coe show their Driver Training class how they think the accident occurred.

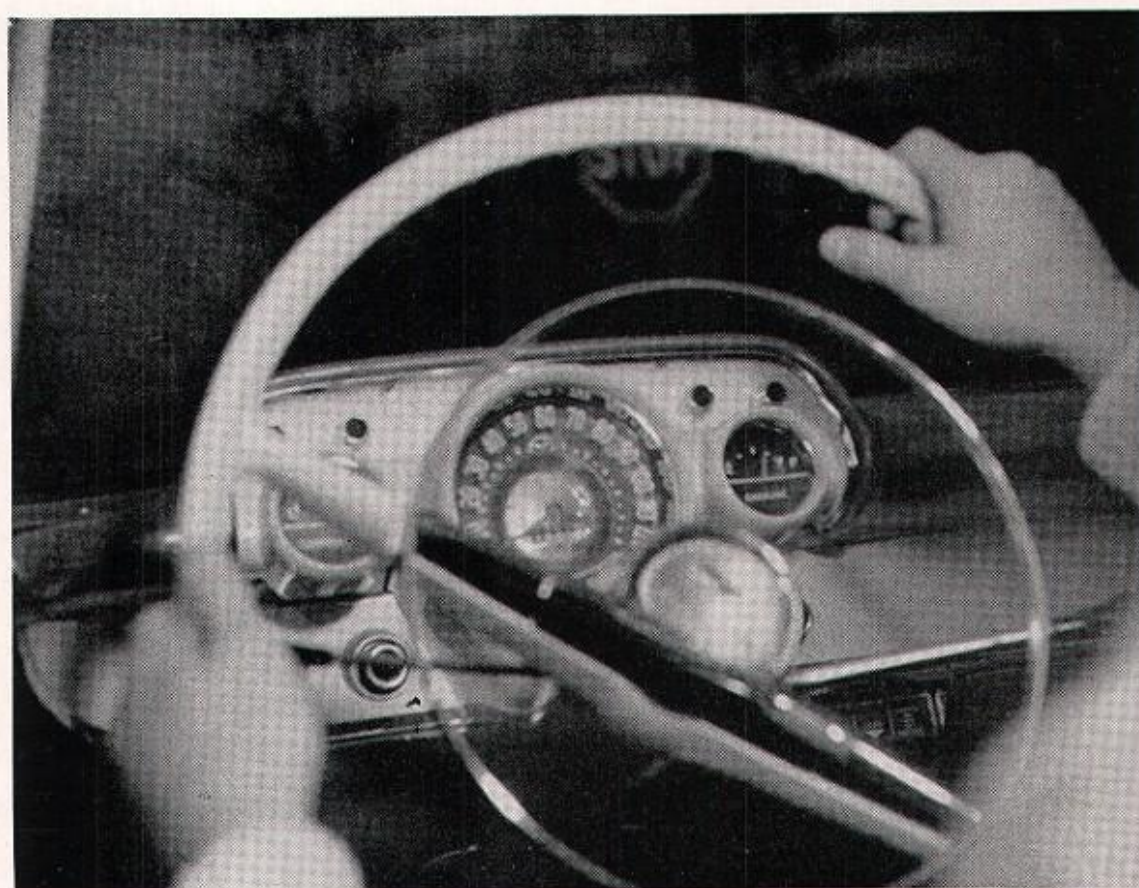

Thump . . . clang . . . thud!! From the sounds issuing from behind that car, one might guess that it was falling apart, but really, it was the girls in a Driver Training class learning how to change a tire. By the end of the semester they considered themselves experts in every phase of owning and operating an automobile. The boys felt much smarter then too, for they had gained a behind-the-wheel attitude that made them safe and sane drivers.

On Wednesdays, you found the Driver Training classes in a classroom, using a felt board to reconstruct traffic problems. During the rest of the week, they were seen driving about with Mr. Robert Bushong, Mr. Urban Steckler, Mr. Gene Turner, or Mr. Leon Orr behind the dual-controls.

Although an elective, Driver Training should be a part of every student's curriculum of study.

We Met The Challenge - And Drove

The results of voluntary observance and efficient enforcement of the code of the road are safe highways. In the Driver Training classes the students learn careful observance of the law.

Calypso, progressive jazz, marches, waltzes, and many other types of music may be heard in a music appreciation class. At the left, Terry Alexander is putting a record on the hi-fi set while his classmates eagerly await the musical sounds.

Music Made The Day Much Brighter . . .

"Oklahoma! where the winds are wild and blowing free . . ." Yes, those are the popular words from one of Rodger and Hammerstein's musicals—just one of the many Broadway productions studied by the music classes. KHS is fortunate to have such a fine program of music offered to the students. In addition to the glee clubs and the choir, there are alternating classes in music history and appreciation.

Guided by Mr. Joseph Ragains, many industrious musicians studied theory in song writing, analyzed the feelings involved in writing songs, delved into the origin of musical instruments, and generally increased their knowledge of the phases of music.

The first part of each class period was set aside for daily quizzes and discussions. Then for the next thirty minutes, music appreciation students relaxed to the enjoyable melodies written by famous and brilliant composers and arrangers.

While those in the music appreciation classes were studying musical compositions, the music history students searched into the past of notes, scales, and rhythms.

It is obvious that music appreciation and music history are two very valuable electives offered at KHS, for they help provide a well-rounded course of study.

This is not the usual position for playing a violin. Jackie Agnew is only pointing out the various parts of this stringed instrument for the music history class.

From the paint brushes, pencils, ink, erasers, etc. of this art class, come the abstract and conventional pictures that are displayed in the halls of KHS.

... While Art Made The Horizon Wider

"Turn your palm up and let your fingers relax around the apple." These are not words that the average student hears everyday; but those who pose for pictures in one of Miss Bernice McKinley's art classes are sure to recognize the directions. Drawing pictures was not all the art students learned in class, however. They studied the color chart and learned the most satisfactory combinations of lines and curves to use in constructing a design.

In addition to sending exhibits to art showings, the art classes, in the spring, decorated the halls of KHS with the mounted products of a year's work.

Contemporary, modern, and Oriental portraits line the walls of the Art classroom as the students prepare their drawings for the Art Exhibit at L. S. Ayres and Company in Indianapolis.

These Direct and Co-ordinate

Directing the multitude of events which occur in the Kokomo and Center Township Consolidated School System is Mr. O. M. Swihart, Superintendent of Schools. This year he received state-wide attention upon his election as President of Indiana State Teachers Association. Kokomo High School wishes to extend its congratulations for this great honor given him.

Sharing the responsibilities of the Superintendent's office is the newest addition to the directorial staff of our school system, Dr. Walter Kent, Assistant Superintendent of Schools. Dr. Kent comes to us from Bloomington, Indiana, where he was employed by Indiana University and received his doctorate.

These two men make a smooth-working team in helping to provide the youth in Kokomo with the opportunities they deserve.

Dr. Walter Kent discusses an important school matter with our Superintendent, Mr. O. M. Swihart.

Twelve Engrossing Years

Co-ordinating the school activities in Kokomo and Center Townships, the School Board is an important part of our education. They have many duties to fulfill, such as budgeting school funds, establishing school policies, arranging the school year, and planning new buildings for the growing population of school age children.

The Kokomo-Center Township School Board consists of five members who are selected by the City Council, one appointed by a Superior Court Judge, and one by the Circuit Court Judge. The term of each of the seven members is three years.

This organization works many long hours behind the scenes of the Kokomo and Center Township schools to develop and better the educational system.

Top Row: Mr. O. M. Swihart, Mr. Merrill Brunk, Mr. Otho Simpson, Mr. J. O. Finley.

Mr. Kenneth Crook aids Mr. O. I. Farmer in arranging the faculty schedule.

While Day By Day

The nucleus of all activity in KHS is Room 207. Here you may see students, faculty members, and visitors engaged in conference or other official business. The problems of everyone eventually gravitate to the office of our principal, Mr. O. I. Farmer, who has been the principal at Kokomo High since 1951.

Sharing the many duties of administration is the assistant principal, Mr. Kenneth Crook, whose special responsibilities are the scholarships and testing programs.

Mr. Farmer and Mr. Crook work in co-operation with everyone in KHS, as they give helpful and needed advice. Although they are kept very busy, they always find time to answer the students' questions. Smoothing out the problems of the high school population, these men are a necessary and vital part of student and faculty life. Their services are also enjoyed and appreciated by all people who come in contact with KHS.

They See Us Through

A school of 2300 students has many administrative problems. Each year, a calendar of high school activities must be carefully planned. A testing program must be set up and any additions to the curriculum must be decided. To help with these responsibilities, Mr. O. I. Farmer has organized an advisory council.

The principal, his assistant, and the three deans are automatically members of this new organization. The five remaining councilmen are elected by the faculty body in the fall.

Matters concerning our entire school are discussed at council meetings. Mr. Farmer and Mr. Crook lean heavily on this group of advisors for assistance in making decisions concerning students and teachers at KHS.

Sitting: Mr. Kenneth Crook, Miss Estella Pearce, Mr. O. I. Farmer, Miss Audra Lindley, Mr. J. P. Jones.

Standing: Mr. Karl Kiger, Mr. C. C. Lester, Mr. Lee Dixon, Mr. Charles Franklin, Mr. Fred Mustard.

Deans Audra Lindley and Estella G. Pearce enjoy counseling the girls.

The Deans' Warm Smiles

At some time during her high school career, every girl finds herself in need of helpful advice. Mrs. Audra Lindley and Miss Estella Pearce are at all times eager to offer useful guidance.

The two deans are kept continually busy counseling 1000 girls. Among their many other duties are sending call slips, checking absentees, and performing other countless tasks which require their services. Both women are orientation teachers and advisors to Student Council. They also serve on the Administrative Board.

Besides their activities at school, Mrs. Lindley and Miss Pearce lead full personal lives. Miss Pearce is happy when she is in the great outdoors, while Mrs. Lindley likes to be with her family. No matter how busy these women are, they are always ready to lend a helping hand to the girls at KHS.

Add A Personal Touch

Pass the big glass door of room 208 and take a look inside. There you will find one of the busiest places in Kokomo High School, for Mr. J. P. Jones, Assistant Principal and Dean of Boys, is kept continually busy writing and signing pass slips, listening to problems, and giving advice.

An attendance secretary and a staff of office girls are at his right hand throughout the day to help him with his mountain of work.

Dean Jones plays a big part in our extra-curricular activities. Besides distributing basketball tickets, he also acts as sponsor of the Boys' Legion, Booster Committee, and the Student Council.

The Dean of Boys puts a lot of time and effort into our school to help make it one of the best in Indiana.

Each morning finds the teachers in the office getting their mail. Mr. Ed Maddox reads a letter from a former pupil, while Mrs. Louis Blanche Greenlee, Miss Imogene Winslow, and Mrs. Mildred Kern check the day's communiques.

While Teachers Expanded Our Knowledge

Teachers are interested and fun-loving people just as you and I. The teachers of Kokomo High School come from many communities, and their backgrounds are of a variety that is typically American. These people have spent a great deal of time in preparation for the teaching profession, and their training represents study in colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Teachers are busy people, yet they find time to be with the students outside of the classroom. Helping the students in the extra-curricular clubs, the school newspaper and yearbook, and the many stage productions, teachers give of their valuable experience as they and KHS students work and learn informally together. The faculty may often be found in the cafeteria, library, and auditorium fulfilling jobs we sometimes take for granted.

Although we make pests of ourselves and often appear unappreciative, we really feel indebted to the teachers for the learning and guidance they willingly bestow upon us.

These Are Important

Dr. Frederick S. Schwartz and Nurse Esther Edwards are kept busy attending to KHS students, while the office personnel and attendance clerk handle clerical duties with efficiency. Through the effort of these indispensable people, our school wheel of activity is kept smoothly turning.

We couldn't get our business taken care of without the help of Miss Sharlot Critchlow, Mrs. Beverly Maddox, and Miss Barbara Oakley, assistants in 207 and 208.

Spokes In Our Wheel

A brigade of janitors is needed to keep Kokomo High School clean, warm, and in good operating condition. Another essential part of our school is the pot and pan division who prepare tempting arrays of food each day in the KHS cafeteria.

Mrs. Julia Meritt, Mrs. Ruth Stockdale, Mrs. Hazel Hancock, Mrs. Pauline Rogers, Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. Gladys Lacy, Mrs. Opal Pavey, Mrs. Eileen Varnadora, Mrs. Lavanche Lawson, and Mrs. Margaret Clark prepare our noon nourishment.

1. Mr. Alexander Bell finds disadvantages to grading class notebooks.
2. Mrs. Elsie Seagrave and Mrs. Barbara Rees relax in the library
3. Miss Dorothy Thornburgh adds credits for a hopeful graduate.
4. Mr. O. I. Farmer gets his boutonniere from Penelope Grant on "Teachers' Day."

5. Mr. Robert Bushong must be thinking intently!
6. Mr. Ed Maddox feeds his parakeet while Skippy acts jealous.
7. Mr. Alfred Himelick looks over a nice catch.
8. Mr. Frank Moore discusses something with one of his drafting students.
9. Miss Elizabeth McIntosh finds something amusing in her morning study hall.

1. Although Mr. Gene Turner doesn't drink coffee often, he is very careful when he does.
2. Miss Elizabeth Handley, Miss Ruth Horn, Mrs. Ruth Gosma, and Miss Lila Sill discuss the "latest" while taking a morning coffee break.
3. Mr. Lory Coy and Mrs. Jane Hall find an amusing test answer.
4. Mrs. Ruth Gosma arrives at school in her big "family" car!

5. Mr. Leon Orr inspects Mr. Chester Hill's new trophy given for his thirty-two years of service as head of the Kokomo Relays.
6. Mr. Bud Overton takes time to pose for the camera while coming in from gym.
7. Mrs. Beverly Maddox looks on while Mr. Fred Mustard is caught by surprise.
8. Miss Mary A. Fausset accompanies some of the school musicians.

President Jerry Neal, Secretary Carolyn Catt, Vice President Jim Beane, and Treasurer Vanetta Poppas make plans for the Seniors.

With Happy Memories We Face The Future

Graduation! It's unbelievable . . . Here I am . . . sitting in my cap and gown . . . waiting to receive my diploma. So many things have happened in the last four years. I'll never forget the fun we had at football games in our painted senior cords. The senior trip and class play were really exciting . . . Yes, we've had a wonderful time.

Everyone was so helpful . . . Mr. Fred Mustard, Mrs. Frank Kern, Miss Lyla Sill, Miss Helen Kay, Mr. Charles Franklin, Mr. Earl Wilson, and Mr. Charles Lester sponsored our class and gave us that needed advice.

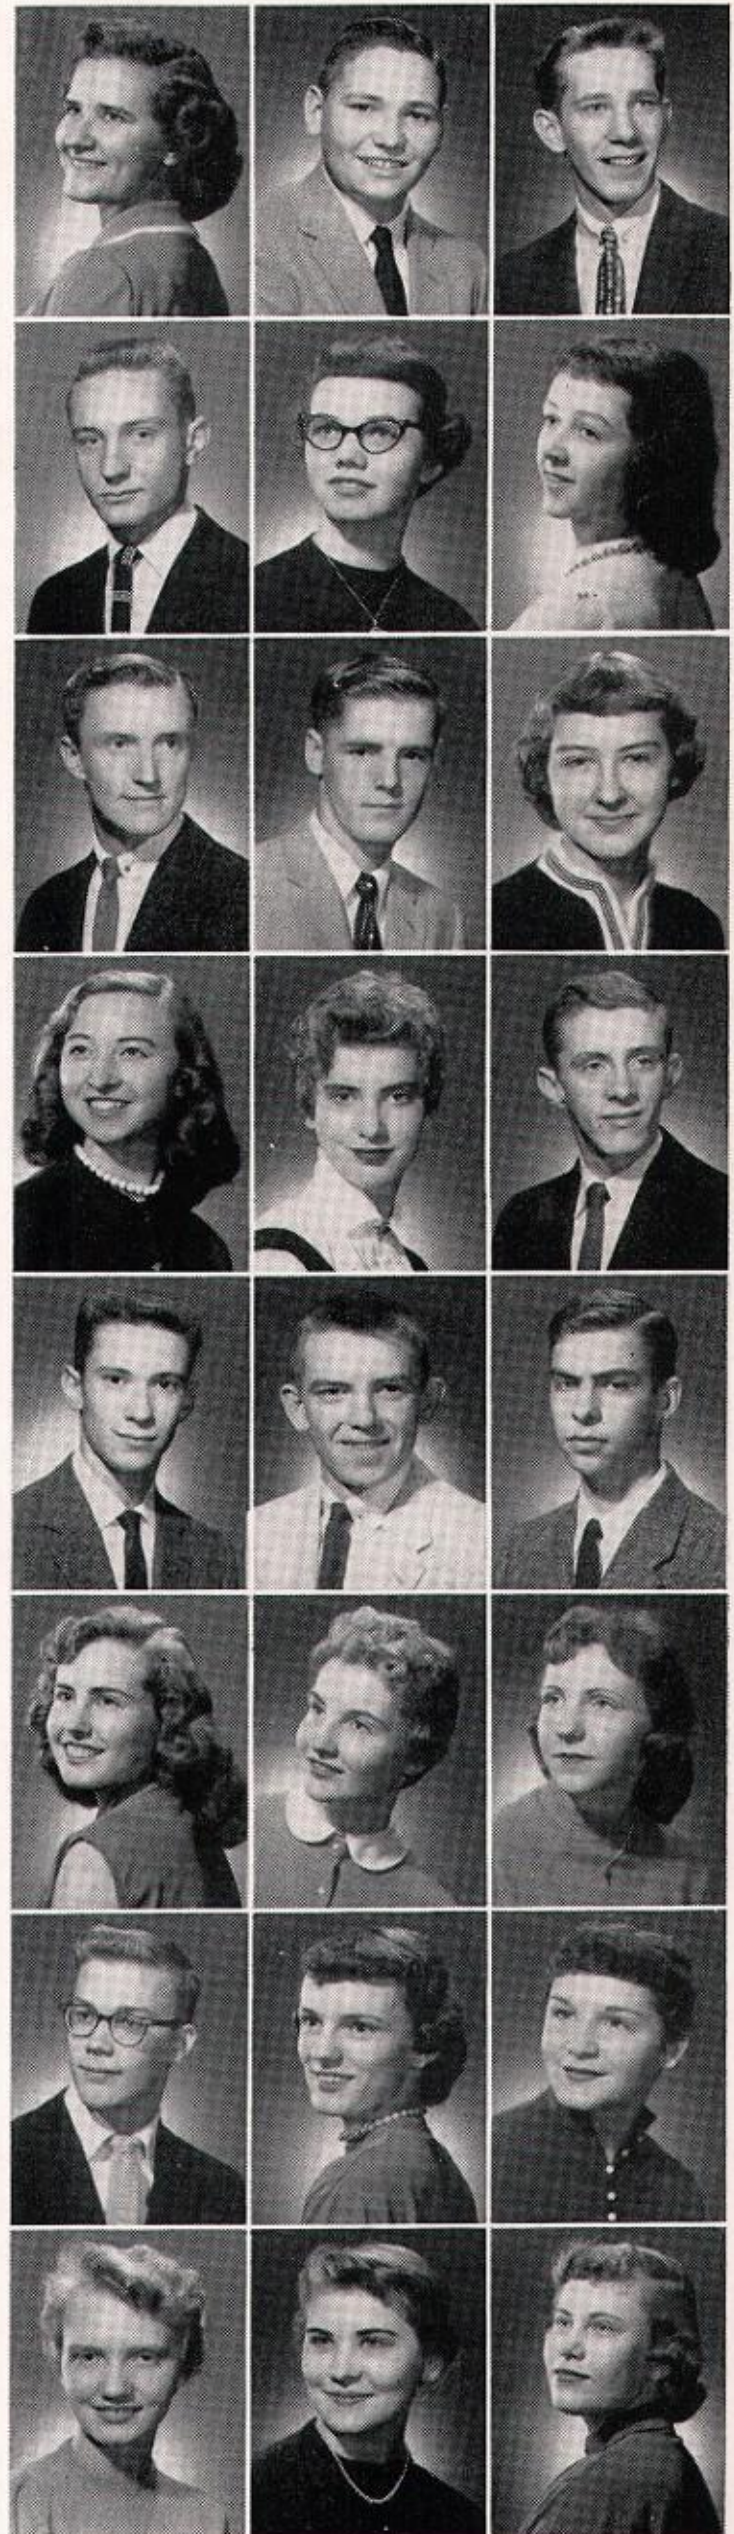

What's the speaker saying about looking to the future? . . . Oh! that every senior should . . . I wonder what the future holds for me? . . . I wonder what I'll be doing this time next year?

The president of the school board is beginning to hand out the diplomas . . . I hear my name . . . I'm nearly a KHS graduate!

CLASS SONG OF 1957

by Wilma Briggs and Diane Ragains

Our class will always cherish
Memories we hold so dear.
Gay times we've spent together
Will linger on through the years.
And with a thought of sadness
We'll go our separate ways,
Richer because we shared here
The joys of high school days.

Our class play was a sensation;
The officers have just been swell
Now's time for graduation;
Of all our great times we'll tell
Farewell to friends and teachers;
We think they are the best.
We will be loyal and faithful
To memories of KHS.

The junior officers, Lynn Davenport, Vice Pres.; Carol Coe, Secy.; Joyce Green, Treas.; and Jerry Ashburn, Pres.; are all ready to drive into the future and experience an exciting senior year.

Eager For Next Year's Challenge

Anticipating the moment when they will become leaders of KHS, the Juniors of 1957 are as eager as beavers to step into the key position. With their newly acquired drivers' licenses and flashing class rings, they can hardly wait until they will be on the inside of our school wheel of activity.

Election of their first class officers, selection for the American Field Service, and the Junior-Senior Reception made the Junior year one that was full of expectations, responsibility, and enjoyment.

Helping to guide the destinies of the Junior body, the Class elected Jerry Ashburn as president and Lynn Davenport as vice-president. Carol Coe managed the money and Joyce Green recorded the many class activities.

Faculty advisors were Mr. Edward Phillips and Mr. Robert Barngrover, co-chairmen; Mrs. Mary Crook, Mr. Stanley Duncan, Mrs. Louie Blanch Greenlee, Mrs. Jane Hall, Mr. Clifford Lineback, Mr. Ed Maddox, Miss Elizabeth McIntosh, Mrs. Geraldine Philapy, Mr. Joe Powell, Miss Helen Railsback, Miss Dorothy Thornburgh, and Mr. Kenneth Warthen.

Second Plateau and Still Climbing

One rung up the ladder toward graduation, the Sophomores stand sturdy and strong. The class of 1959 has made its place. Sophomores have taken their places in all lines of extra-curricular activities, and their endeavors have been recognized through the halls of KHS.

Sophomore roll rooms have been capably represented on Student Council by Marjorie Baugher, Carolyn Besser, Douglas Cameron, Floyd Cox, Maureen Dalzell, Vickie Fry, Connie Garbert, George Hopkins, Dan Horsman, Karen Long, Sue Myers, Anne Price, Ellen Reith, Kay Scott, Judith Ann Smith, Ann Stockdale, Larry Welsh, and JoAnn Windsor.

To speak for the Sophomores on the Girls' League Council, Karol Stonger and Marjorie Baugher were elected last spring. In the fall Bill Kessler, David Long, and Jack Shutt were voted to the Board of Directors of the Boys' Legion.

The Class of 1959 looks forward to the second half of its high school career with anticipation and assurance of great things to come.

High School At Last

Giggling girls and bashful boys gazed with awe at the long halls of KHS. It was September, 1956, and at last they were FRESHMEN! How proud they were when the room numbers became familiar to them, and the "Freshies" learned that 302 was not on the fourth floor.

Quickly getting into the swing of things, they studied diligently and some even made the Honor Roll. They discovered the extra-curricular activities and enthusiastically participated in them.

The new KHSers entered school politics and elected a capable group of representatives to the Student Council. These were Nancy Arnett, Emily Beaman, Jackie Bertram, Barbara Carlson, Rita Conwell, Stefanie Faulkner, Jerry Fulk, Carol Glassburn, Jane Hannah, Jane Hundley, Karen Kelly, Judy Lamberson, Ginger Lewis, Virginia Miller, Tom Morr, Billie Louise Pulley, Ronnie Reynolds, Sharon Smith, Jim Soblotne, Janis Tolley, and Linda Wright.

Now their Freshman year is over. They realize that they will have to work hard, but they have the confidence to face their future years at KHS.

The Pigskin Crew of KHS

Football at Kokomo High School got off to a rousing start as Coach Bob Hamilton, in his second year as head coach, led his squad to a 24-7 traditional win over Peru's Tigers before 5000 fans.

The Kats' second outing proved less heartening. Broad Ripple's Rockets zoomed in with revenge in their eyes for the previous season's lacing and handed us our first set-back of the season. Despite the 33-20 score, the game proved exciting as touchdowns by Jerry Martin and Ronnie Smith brought us close to victory late in the last quarter.

Sparked by the marvelous defensive play of Don Wilson, Jerry Basham, John Fewell, and Phil Reynolds, the Kats got back into the win column, cutting the Marion Giants down to size in our first NCC contest, 34-0.

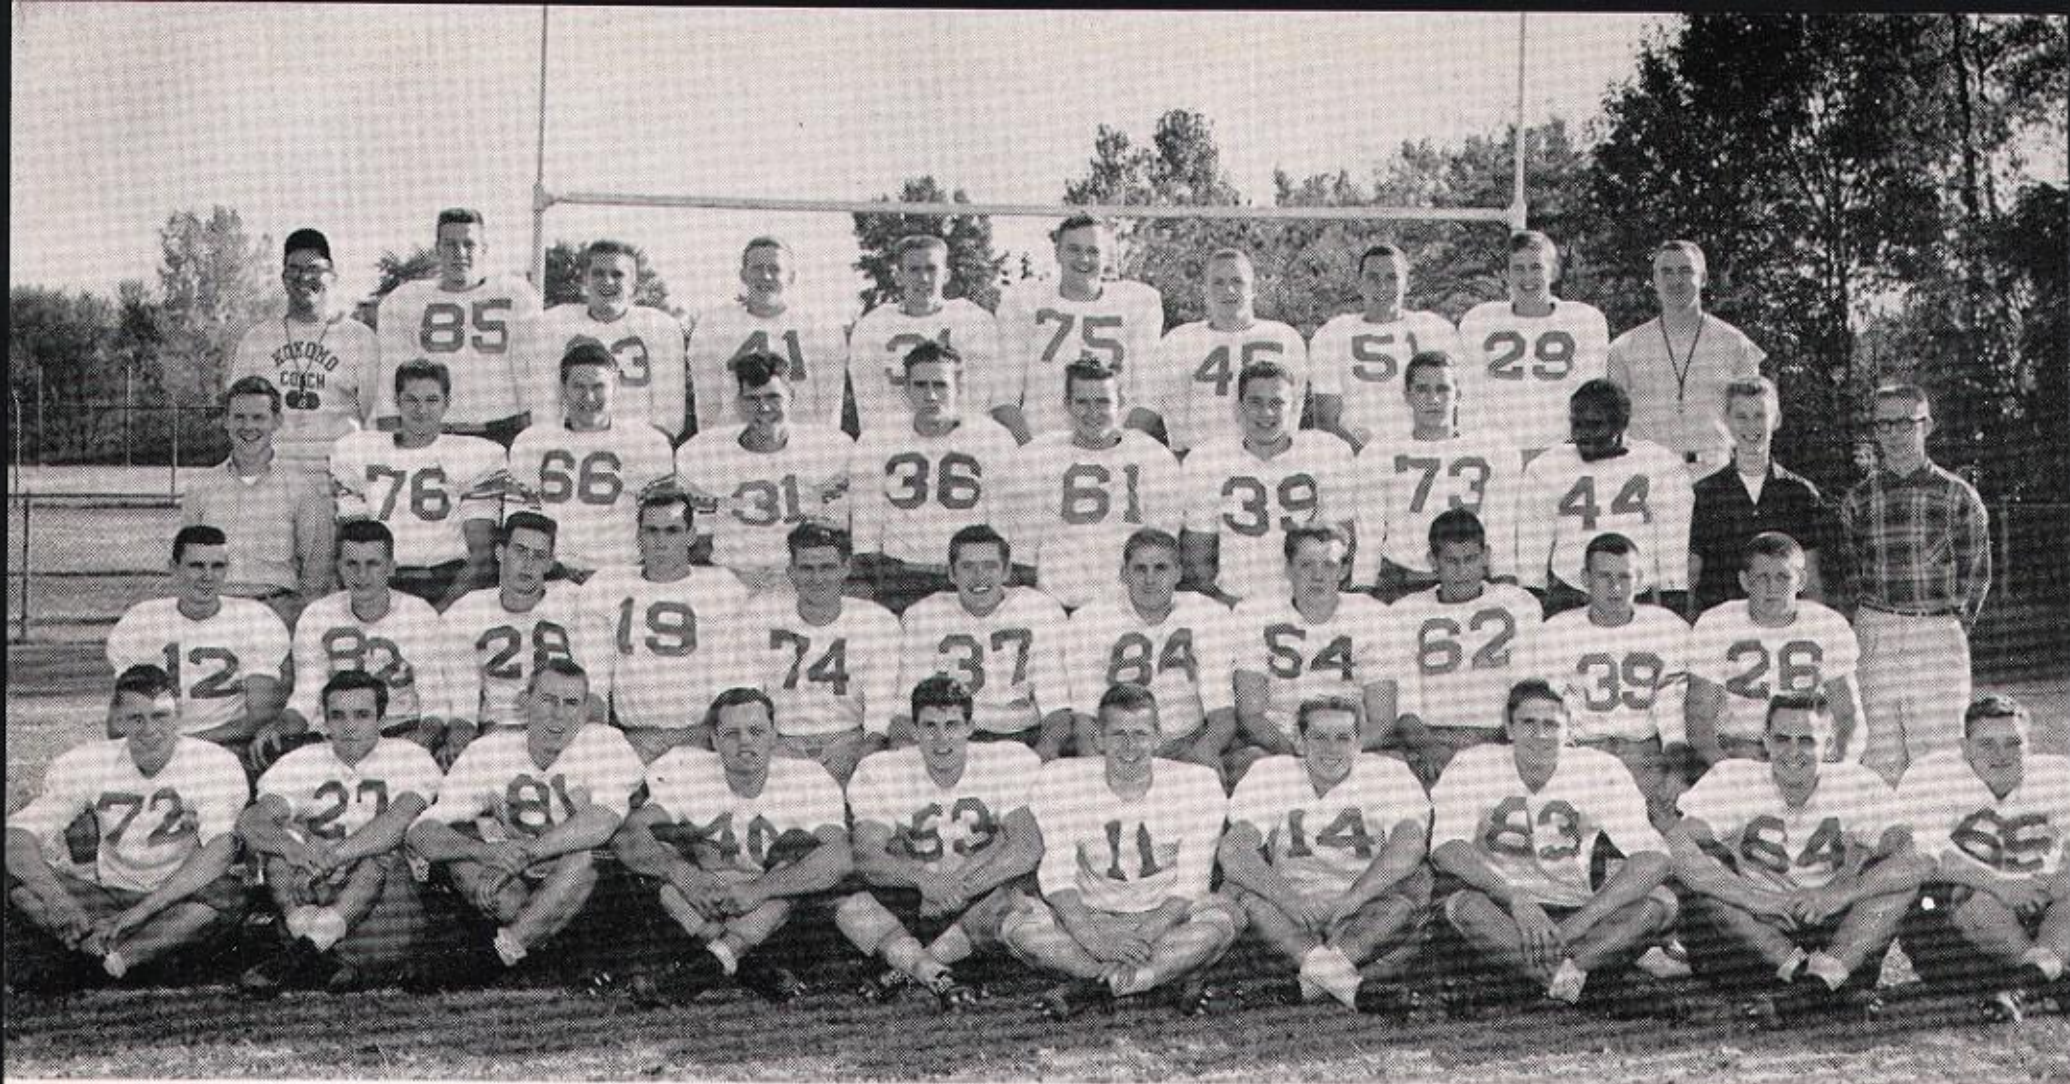

The Kats' second straight NCC shut-out bid was foiled by a lone field goal in the fourth quarter as the Kats tamed the Lafayette Broncos, 14-3. Jim Eades, playing his first year as quarterback, provided the clinching touchdown as he connected with All-State end, Dale Wise, for a six pointer.

Hamilton's crew retaliated from the previous season's loss to Elwood as they moved to the Panthers' lair for a 41-6 win. The Kats' great

Jim Eades tries to break loose from Lafayette tacklers for valuable yardage as Ronnie Smith blocks and Jerry Martin waits for his chance.

Aided by Undaunted Support

senior backfield comprised of Jim Beane, Ronnie Smith, Jerry Martin, and Jim Eades seemed to have developed into a smooth co-ordinating machine as Ronnie Smith, Jerry Martin, and Dale Wise each tallied two touchdowns to lead our best offensive effort of the season.

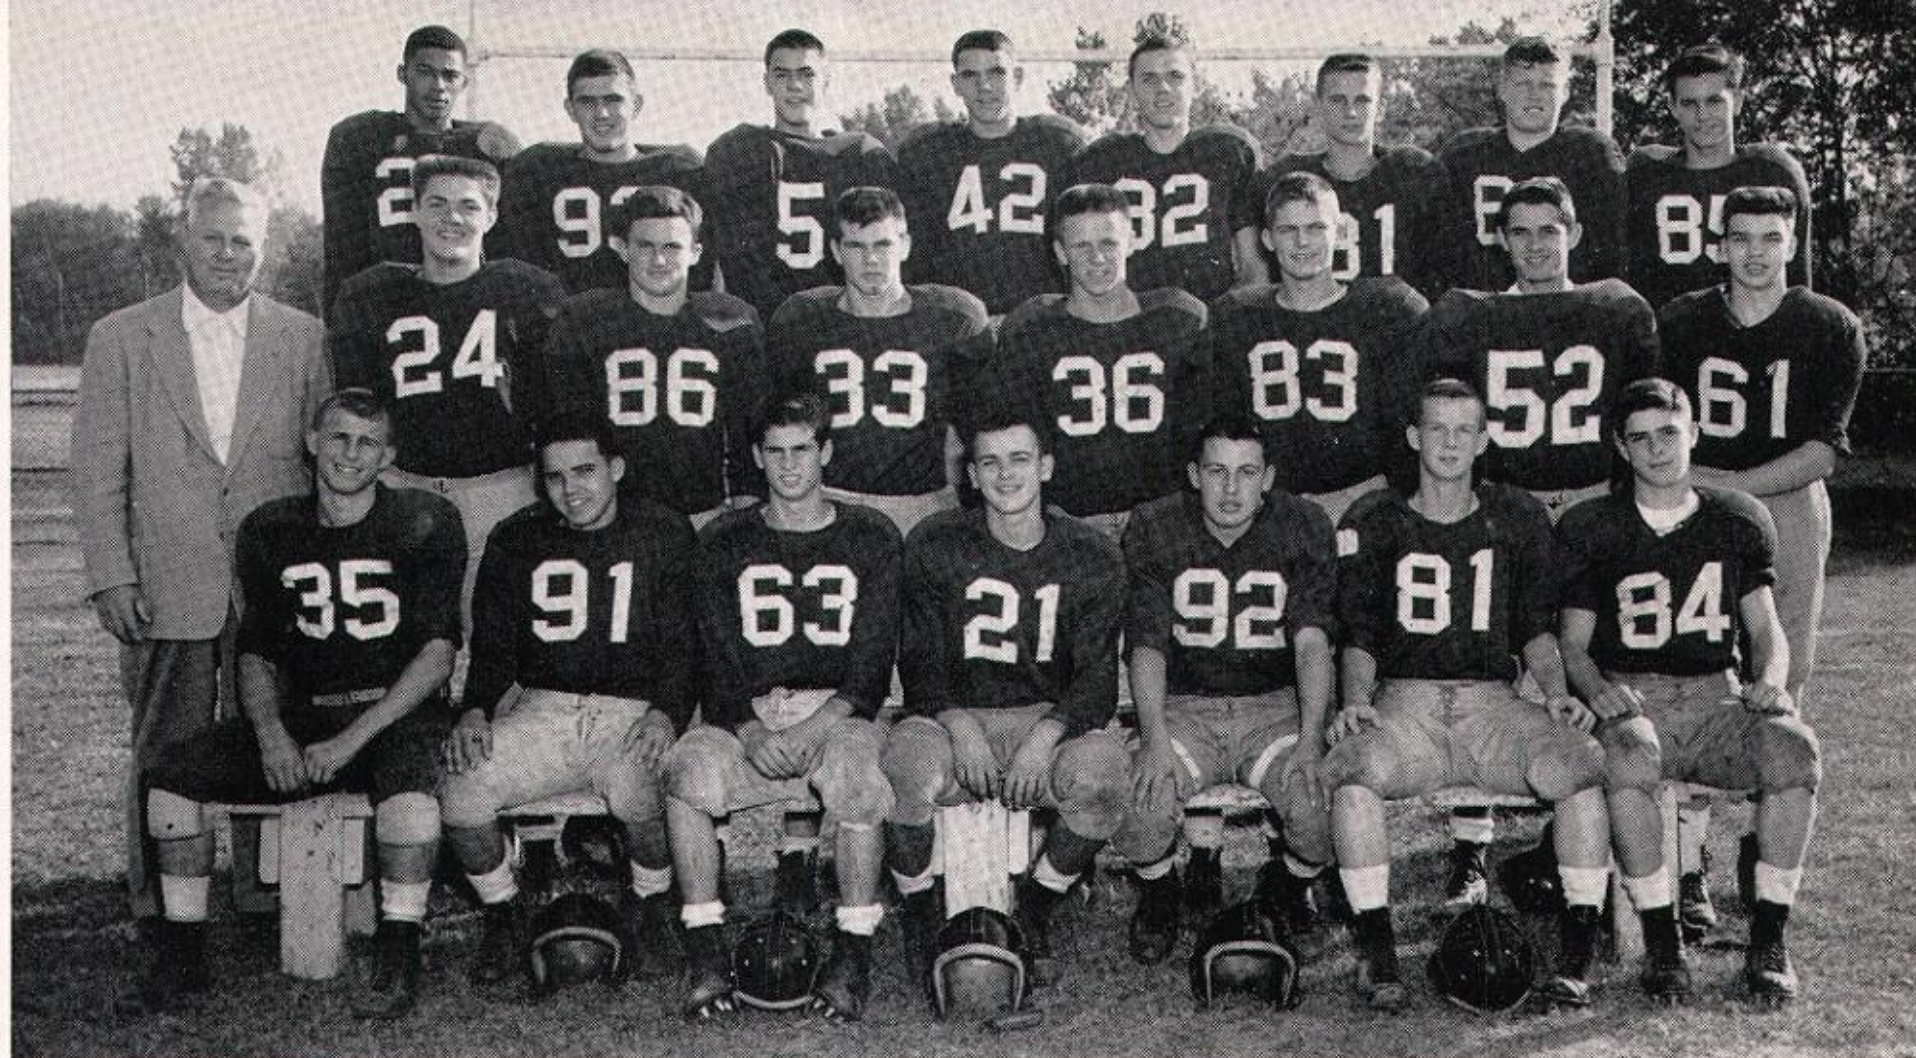

Shooting for their third straight Conference victory, the Kats jumped off to an early lead of 21-0 and then let their strong defensive unit comprised of Jack Williams, Joe Duncan, Richard Green, and Buddie Cox take over to preserve a 32-14 victory over Anderson's Indians.

Tech's powerful Greenclads stopped our offensive drives and rolled over our defensive unit as we suffered our second loss at Kautz Field by the score of 40-14.

Pre-game preparation in the locker room, as demonstrated by Coach Robert Hamilton, Ronnie Smith, Lynn Davenport, and Dick Wood . . . later proved to forestall injuries as Tom Swing is brought down unhurt.

from the Student Body

The Kats hit the winning trail again by de-stripping the Attuck's Tigers in our first scheduled game with this team in Kat history. Though it was a warm autumn night the Kats kept cool minds, winning by the comfortable margin of 27-6.

Wildcat director Hamilton, wanting revenge for last year's bitter loss, took a fired-up team to the Berry Bowl and crushed the Berries, 28-20. Jerry Neal's "golden toe" came through as usual as he made all four after-touchdown conversions good.

Finding ourselves in the thick of contention for the NCC crown, we moved to Richmond for our last game of the season. We lost 34-0 to the top ranking team in the state.

Coach Bob Hamilton's team shows KHS students the fundamentals of football at annual opening pep-session of the year.

Gave the Kats Many Victories

Although we didn't capture the NCC title, Hamilton's fighting eleven finished with a respectable 7-3 record that almost equaled the previous season's record of 8-2.

Hurry'n Harriers

Nineteen-fifty-six saw Coach Frank Overton's speedsters of the cross-country track enjoy one of the greatest seasons in many years.

The Kats opened their campaign running away from Lafayette Jeff, 18-34.

Bill Burchard, Vern Frayer, Bill Taylor, and Paul Mabra sparked the Kats' next triumph as we sped past Wabash, 16-39.

In our second NCC outing the Marion Giants squeaked out a narrow victory over the Wildcats, 27-29.

Muncie followed Marion's pattern, defeating us by the margin of 23-34. This dropped Overton's crew to the 500 mark.

Getting behind some stubborn runners, we could salvage only 6th place at the Shortridge Invitational Meet at Indianapolis.

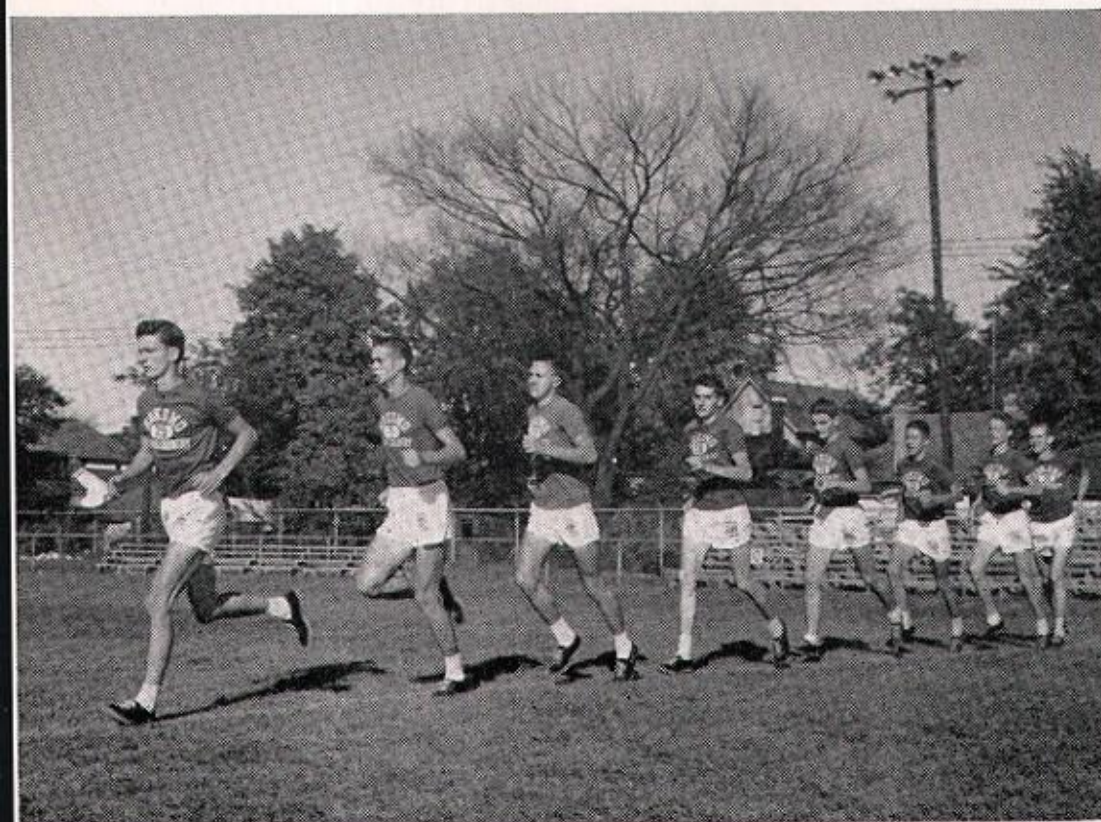

The Kats put on their winged shoes for the North Central Conference Meet at Indianapolis as they ran away with first-place honors.

The Kats didn't fare as well at the Sectional Meet at Marion. There they finished fourth.

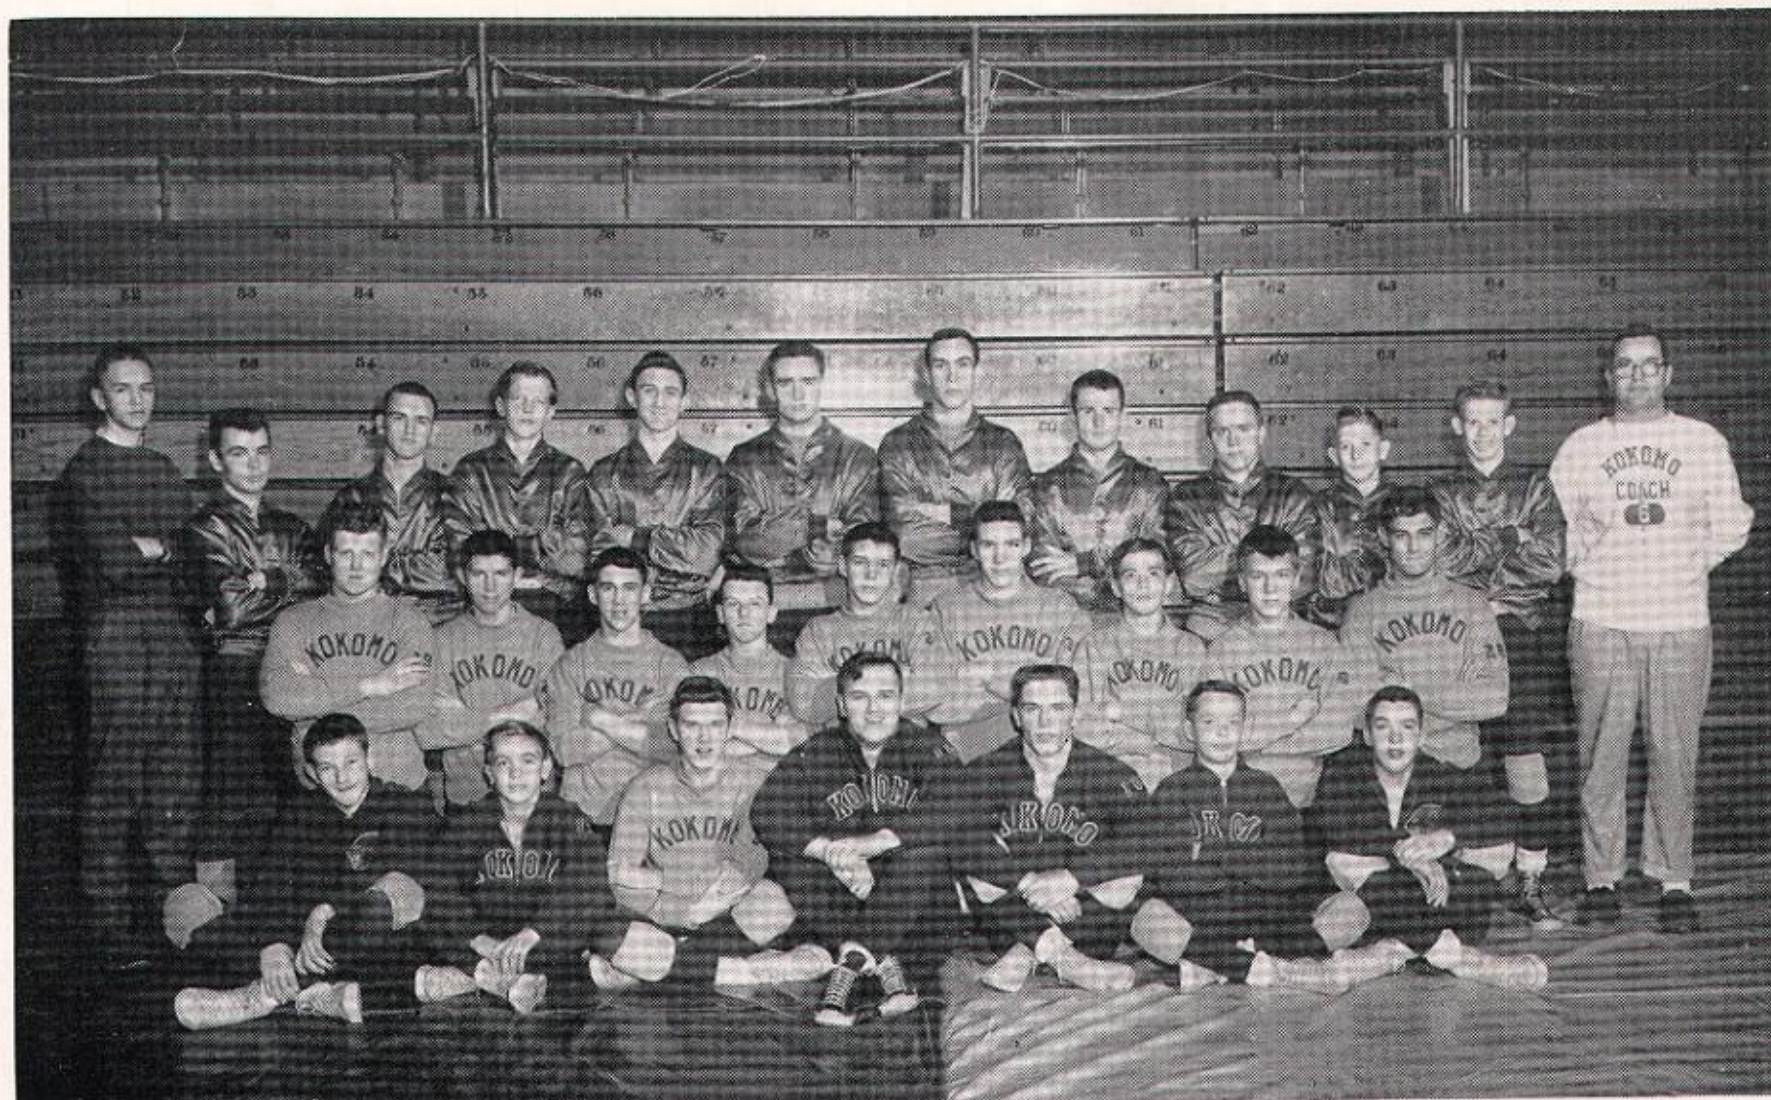

Rounding out their season by competing in the State Meet at Indianapolis, the Kats finished seventh in a rugged field of competition.

Coach Overton was very much pleased with the team's performance this year and is expecting the underclassmen to fill the shoes of the seniors for the years to come.

Bob Fell, Dick Campbell, Vern Frayer, Bill Taylor, Bill Burchard, John Freed, Don Campbell, and Bill Austin show off the order every coach dreams of—the finish, that is.

Second Row: Lowell Bougher, David Price, Don Huntley, Leo Mark Newlin, Phillip McKown, Wayne Sherrow, Bill Childs, David Glassburn, Gene Cameron.

No Holds Barred

Veteran Coach Bob Hamilton of the Kokomo Wildcat wrestling team piloted his fighting lock-breakers to a 4-and-7 season record.

The Kats' wins came over two Conference teams, Marion and Anderson, and two non-Conference teams, Ben Davis and Peru. Despite these victories, the Kats lost more than they won. The conquering foes were New Castle, Lafayette

Jeff, Muncie, Crawfordsville, Southport, and Broad Ripple.

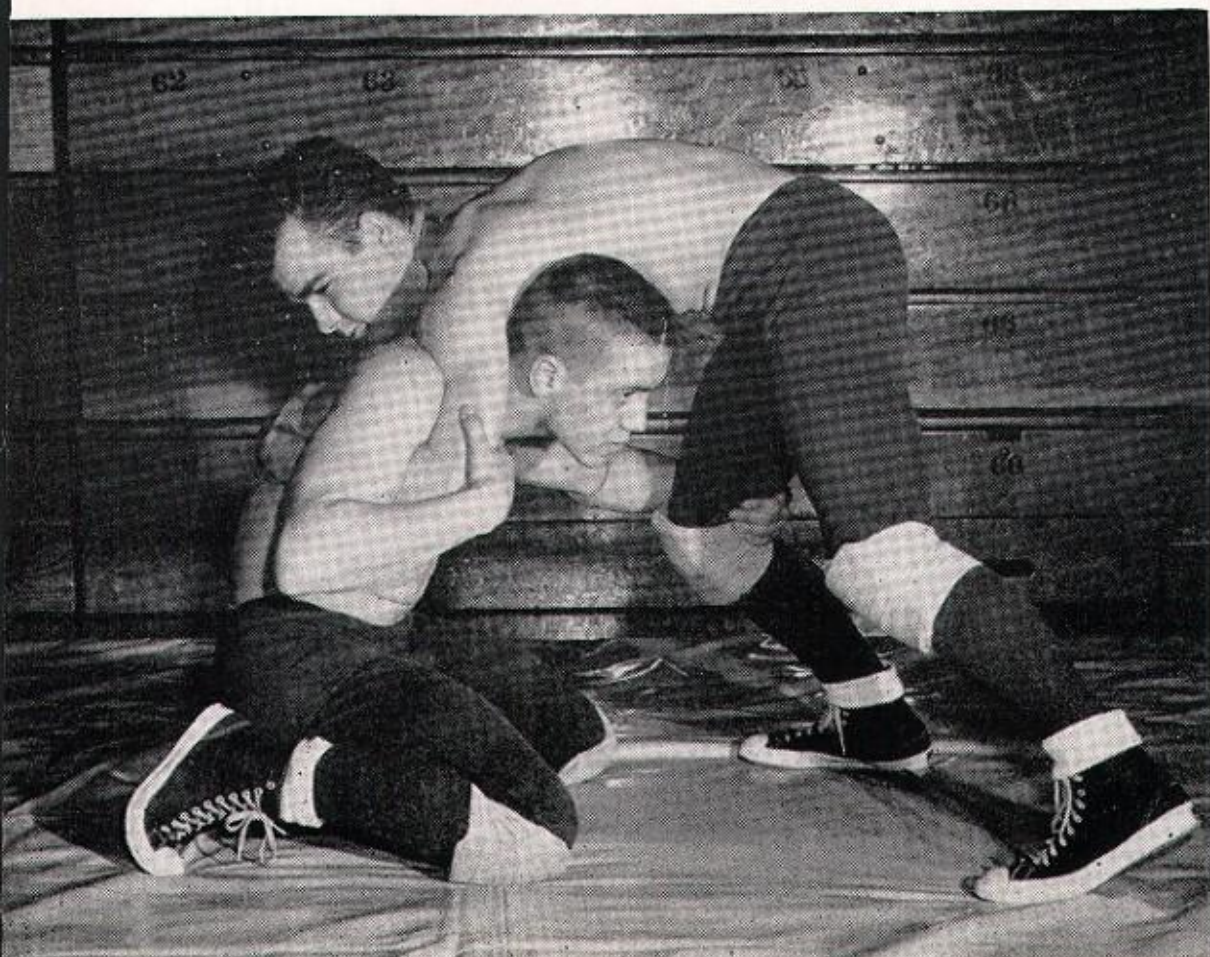

The four-way tourney between Bloomington, Decatur Central, Richmond, and Kokomo found us copping third place out of the field of four.

The Kats' performance in the Sectional and Conference were the same as they grabbed fifth in both.

With the season's end, Hamilton will lose two fine senior wrestlers in Dennis McKee and Clarence Redman. The former, McKee, displayed fine wrestling skill in his 138-pound class as he became State Champion at Bloomington. However, our team didn't fare too well as they could salvage only 13th place in the State Meet.

Coach Hamilton, noticing the increasing enthusiastic turnout for wrestling, predicts a fine season for the '57-'58 campaign.

Dennis McKee and Clarence Redman seem to be dead-locked as they show their wrestling skill.

Our Basketball Team Worked Hard

When Coach Joe Platt's Wildcats opened the season, they were an inexperienced club composed mostly of underclassmen. Although the Kats didn't win all their games, they held their own against many rugged teams. This is a sure indication our Kats will be a strong state contender during the 1958-59 campaign.

The Kats opened the 56-57 season with a 57-51 victory over Wabash before a capacity crowd. The Apaches seem to have had trouble scalping us in their opening game.

Tipton's Blue Devils came in looking for their first victory in several years in their outings with the Kats. Tipton, a determined team, led the Kats most of the way. However, the Kats caught up with the Blue Devils in the closing minutes and forced the game into overtime. A new chance was just what the Kats needed as they pulled away to win by 10 points, 55-45.

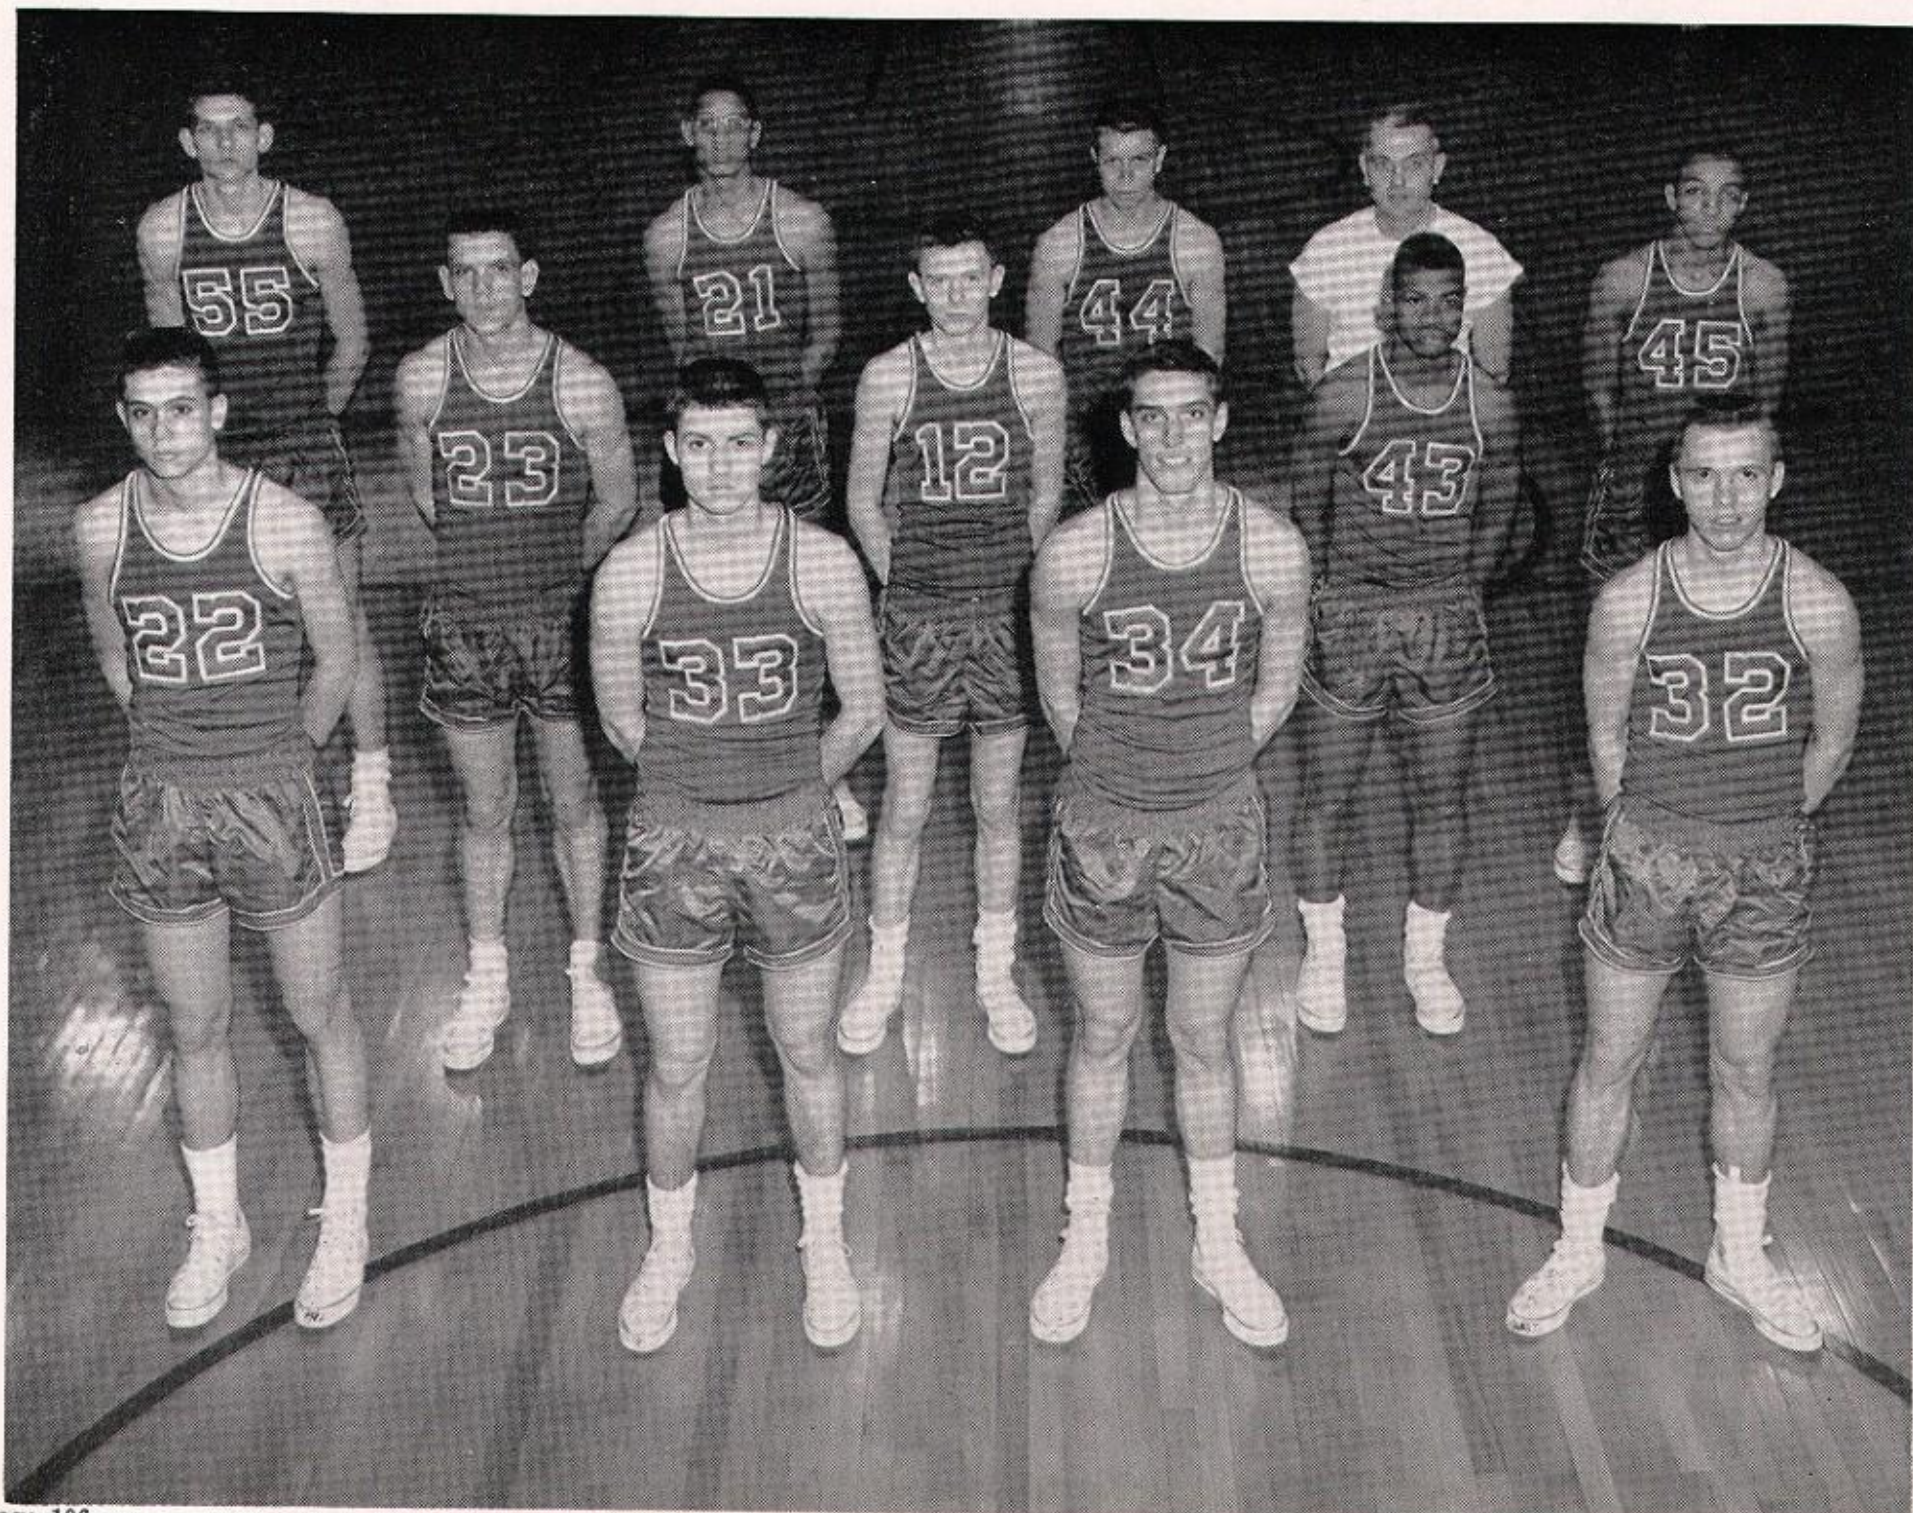

A favored Frankfort team got the surprise of their lives as the Wildcats won their first NCC contest, 54-35.

"A" TEAM

Goldsberry controls the tip against Richmond as Bowling and Gillem begin to roll into action.

Showed Fine Sportsmanship

Don Bowling seems to be in a precarious position as he lets go of a successful lay-up shot against Richmond.

The Kats returned home with a record of 3-0 only to drop two contests in a row to Elwood, 72-53, and to Lafayette, 54-43.

Platt's team gave Marion's Giants quite a tussle on Marion's home floor. The Giants' outside shooting was terrific but they couldn't pull away from the determined Kats. Marion barely squeaked by the Kats at Marion, 63-53.

Indianapolis teams that have always harassed the Kats gave us our fourth and fifth losses. Shortridge handed us our fourth, 54-44; and Attucks handed us our fifth, 68-51.

Different faces were seen at the Four-Way Tourney held annually at the Memorial Gymnasium. Eastern, Northwestern, and Western were substituted for the usual Conference teams. The Kats pulverized Eastern's Comets in the opener, 80-59. That Saturday night our Kats met Northwestern, a 77-63 conquerer of Western, and thoroughly humbled them in the Championship game, 70-48.

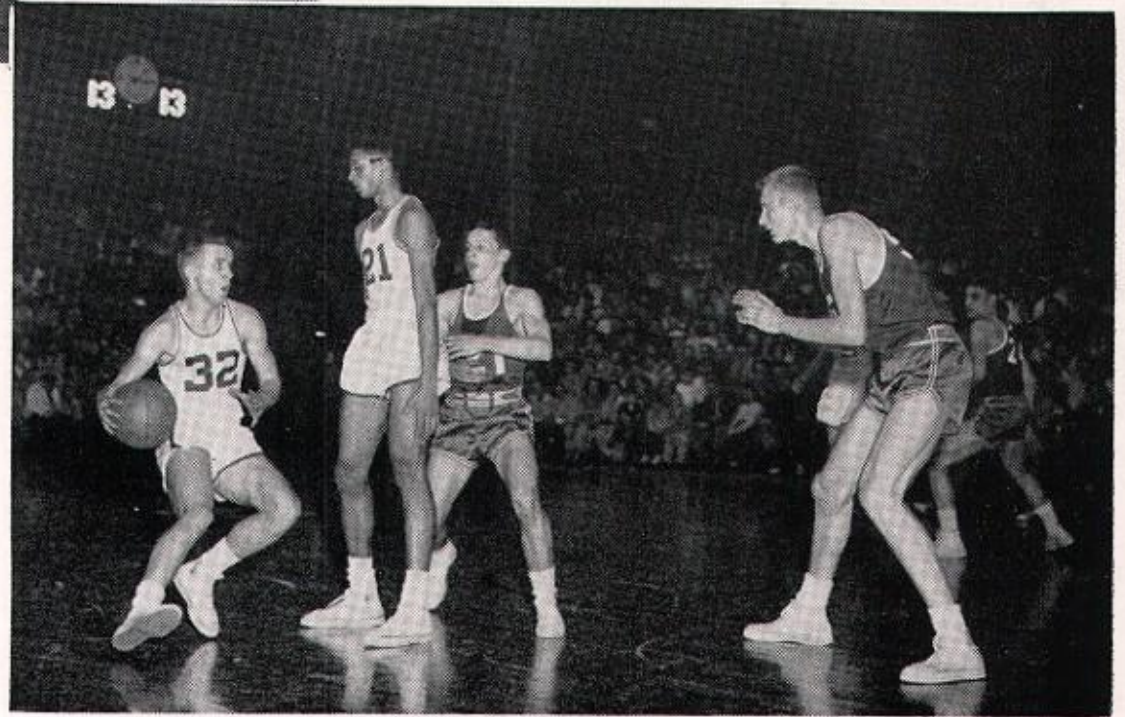

John Gillem protects the ball from a Muncie player as he prepares to pass to a team-mate.

Eddie Payton prepares to take advantage of Dick Graham's block and break a 13-13 deadlock with Muncie.

Won The Four-Way Tourney

Remaining at home, the Kats jumped to a 6-5 season record, beating Jeffersonville, 61-51.

Two NCC teams then took revenge on our Kats. Logan, wanting revenge for the licking we gave them in football, dropped us, 68-59. Frankfort, the other team, avenged their previous drubbing by the Kats as they piled up 60 points to our 43.

Joe Platt's Wildcats were really up for the Richmond encounter. The roar that filled the gym resembled that of the Muncie game two years before. Superb effort and determination brought the Kats within grasp of victory when the clock ran out. Richmond knew that they had been in a rough game as they beat us, 56-49.

Moving to Anderson after a close loss to Richmond the week before, the Kats rose up to defeat Anderson. The contest was important, for the result would decide who would be basement dweller of the NCC. The Kats played to win as Anderson fell, 57-52.

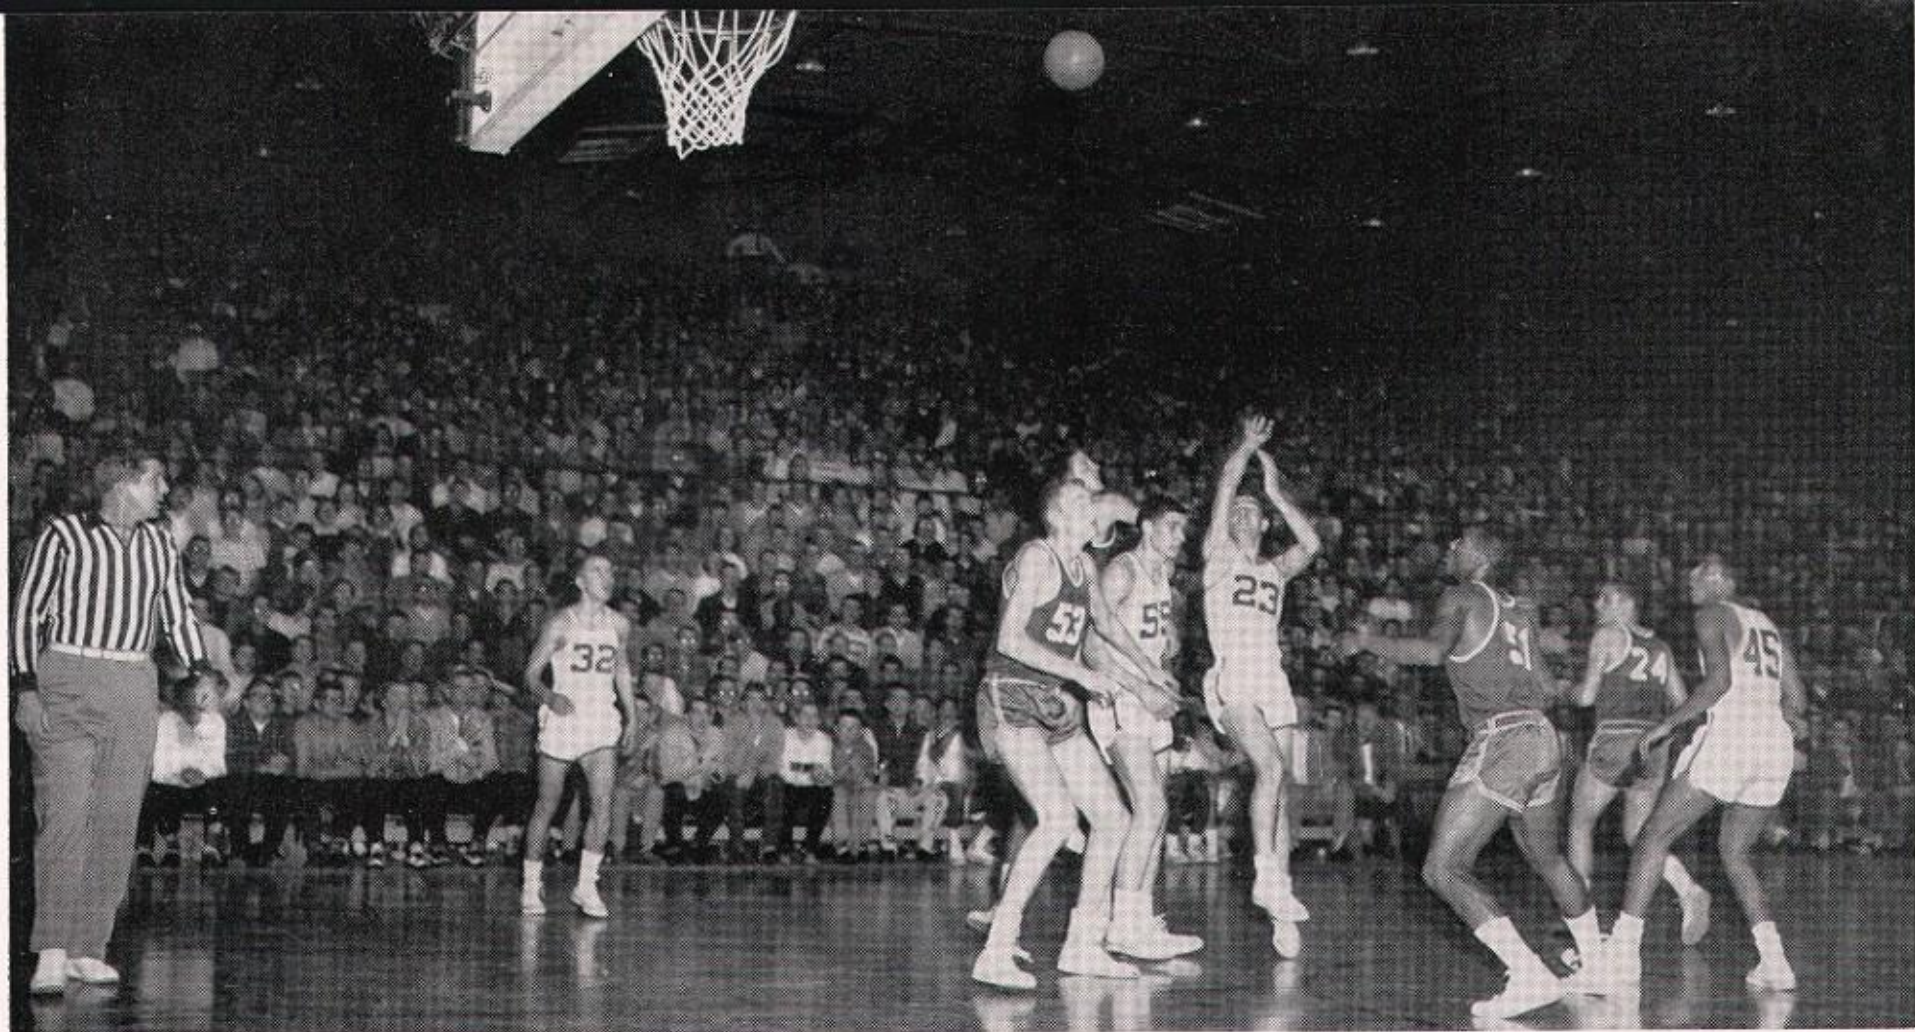

Peru found no power shortage in their line-up as they did in their electricity lines when they defeated us, 65-48, on a Saturday night.

Muncie's tall and powerful Bearcats moved in the following Friday and subdued us, 59-50.

Moving to Indianapolis, the Kats found a fired-up Tech team. A win for Tech meant the NCC crown for them. Tech won the crown, beating us, 72-48.

The next night, Marion again turned the trick, slipping by us in a closely fought contest, 53-48.

Eddie Payton seems to be in the clear as John Gillem lets a one-hander fly against Muncie.

Under Coach Joe Platt

Our Kats traveled to New Castle for the final game of the season. Fine senior players like Eddie Payton and Don Howard would play in their last season game. A fine New Castle team was waiting for our Kats, and we dropped our final game, 73-54.

Kokomo and Richmond players struggle to capture a rebound in a tightly fought battle.

In The 1956-57 Season

The Kats met Western in their tourney opener on Thursday night before a capacity crowd. Western, a strong capable team, led us most of the way before we pulled the game out of the fire in the final quarter to win, 45-42.

The Kats were now ready to meet Delphi in the Saturday afternoon contest. Delphi shot the bottom out of the nets as they built up an 11-point lead which our Kats could not overcome. Delphi, the eventual champs, ended the 1956-57 trail for the Kats, 65-55.

The season's end left Coach Platt with a veteran team whose determination and fight this year will pay off in rich dividends for them and their school next year. Our congratulations go to a fine scrapping Wildcat team.

Getting in the Swing . . .

My name? Joe Friday. My pardner is Frank Smith. We were working the day watch out at bunko division when a call came in. It was a consolidated call by a representative of many schools. It seems that the Kokomo tennis team was handling a vicious racket on the courts according to them. Our job? Check it out. We got in contact with head coach Bob Hamilton, serving his first year in the racket. Hamilton informed us that they had taken six teams on the courts. These were Frankfort, 5-2; Tech, 5-2; Logan, 6-1; Marion, 4-3; Muncie, 6-1; and Peru, 6-1. Hamilton added, however, that three of their opponents had taken them, all three being NCC teams—Richmond, 5-2; Anderson, 5-2; and Jeff, 6-1.

We questioned Larry Fewell and Ronnie Bargerhuff (It seems that they were the key men handling the rackets). They could tell us nothing, but Hamilton and their coherents corroborated the fact that they were the head men.

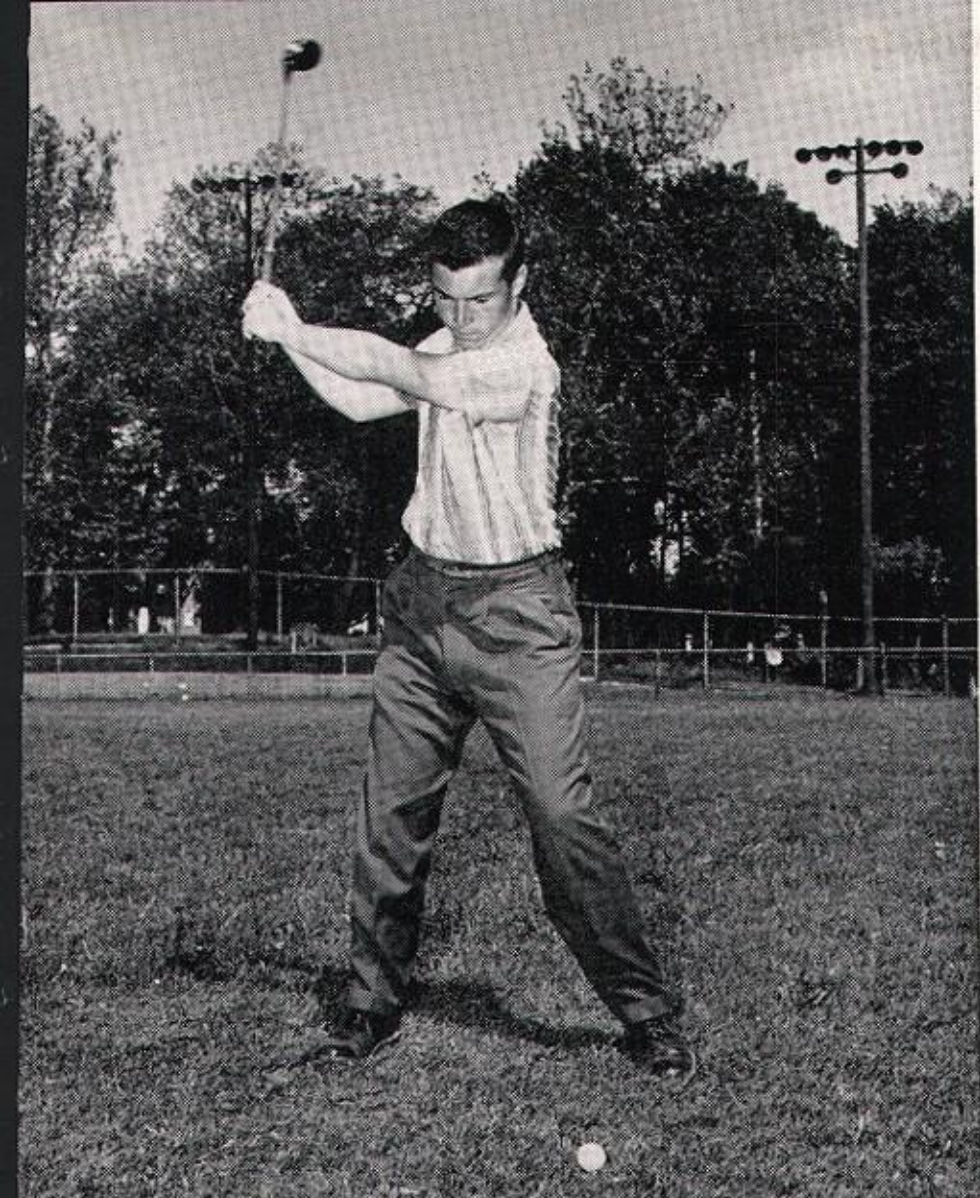

We knew that Hamilton had capable men that could handle a more vicious racket next year, but we couldn't quite convict them. Next year the teams taken in will have to handle a better business than usual.

Case closed for another year.

Paul Cossell and David Standt warm up before a match with a N. C. C. foe.

John Joseph displays fine form as he starts his downswing for another long drive.

"Fore!" This was the cry Russell Bratton's expert linksmen used many times as they competed for top honors in the NCC this year.

The Wildcats experienced one of their usual great seasons; however, they started their season losing to the roaring Tigers of Peru,  $9\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ .

The Kats outshot their next three opponents, Tipton, Tech, and Logansport, by the scores of  $14\frac{1}{2}$ - $1\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $10\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$ , 10-5, respectively.

A rematch with Logansport proved to be disastrous as they putted past the Kats,  $11\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ .

Kent Blackledge, Bill Sheck, and Johnny Joseph all turned in brilliant scores as the Kats squeaked out a victory over Marion's Giants, 8-7.

The Kats ended their match play cooking the Frankfort Hotdogs,  $13\frac{1}{2}$ - $1\frac{1}{2}$ . A rematch with Tech proved equally prosperous as the Wildcats outcolored the Greenclads,  $9\frac{1}{2}$ - $5\frac{1}{2}$ .

Tournament time found the Wildcats roaring for action; however, we didn't fair too well. In our first tournament at Marion we broke even. In the sectional the Kats came in a not-so-encouraging fifth.

The big needle in the Kats' back was the Conference tourney at Marion where they finished ninth.

The 1956 team was composed of many underclassmen which enables Russell Bratton to have high hopes for future years.

The Wildcat Track Team . . .

Kokomo's track team finished the 1956 campaign with a 3 and 3 record under the direction of newly appointed head-coach Robert Bushong. The Kats beat Marion, Tipton, and Logansport, while losing to Fort Wayne South, Tech, and Anderson. Bushong's crew finished second in their sectional, but could manage only seventh in the Conference. Coach Bushong is losing capable senior track men, but basing his hope on five junior prospects, he points to a good '57 campaign.

Spring Brought Platt's Nine

Coach Joe Platt in his rookie year as head baseball coach led the Kokomo team to an impressive 9-3 season record. Seven excellent senior ball players combined with some capable underclassmen made up a well rounded team.

The Kats opened the 1956 season by meeting Marion Bennett at home. Warm weather proved favorable to the Kats as they whitewashed Bennett, 8-0.

The following week when Bennett played host to our Kats, cold weather and the Kats prevailed as the Kats gained their second victory, 11-2.

Shortridge moved into Kokomo for a scheduled double header with the Kat sluggers. The Kats won the opener behind the fine pitching of Dave Myers and receiving by Bob Huffman. The final margin was 11-5. The Kats proved that the windy weather didn't bother them a bit as they won the second game, 3-1, in a shortened 5-inning game.

Moving to Logan, the Kats won a game hampered by dust, 9-4. Such power sluggers as Dyrll Martin, Dick Suter, and Fred Douglas sparked the victory.

Out of Hibernation to Capture

Frankforts' Hotdogs gave us a hot tussle at the local park. The game went into extra innings, and the Kats managed to come out on top, thanks to a clutch hit by Bill Reel.

The Kats enjoyed a fine meal at Muncie after they had given the Bearcats a thorough beating, 7-2.

Bob Linzey shows major league form as he whips in another strike.

Nine Victories Out of Twelve Starts

The Wildcats found plenty of trouble at Richmond. Leading 4-1, they blew the lead in the last inning and lost, 5-4.

At Tech, the following game, we seemed to be as cold as the day as we suffered a disastrous 10-2 loss at their hands.

Tom Simmons found the fine spring weather agreeable, for his triple won a pitching duel for us, 1-0, against Lafayette.

Sunshine and the Kats didn't mix as Marion rolled in and became the third NCC team to hang a loss on us. The score was a squeaker, however, 6-5.

A long trip to New Castle didn't stop the Kats from being a fired-up team as they finished their season by beating the Trojans, 3-1.

They Helped Pave the Way

Kokomo High School is fortunate in having one of the most capable coaching staffs in the state. Our coaches, teaching the Wildcats how to play the game with skill, team work, and sportsmanship, led their fighting teams to many victories.

High school boys who took part in any sport are better boys because of their association with these men.

High School Legislature . . .

Bang! Bang! Bang! I again signaled the legislative body of KHS into action. My wielder, Nancy Hardy, then placed me on the desk as she asked the secretary, Jean Bushong, to relate the happenings of the previous meeting.

I was quite delighted when last fall, I looked upon the faces of the 1956-57 Student Council's seventy-two members elected by their roll rooms. It was a great joy to welcome back the sponsors, Mr. J. P. Jones, Mrs. Audra Lindley, and Mrs. Estella Pearce.

My loud noise was used to conclude much important business which came before the Council. I remember Janet Ulsh guiding her Student Relations Committee in the American Field Service Program. When I saw the signs, "Don't be a litterbug—clean the school," I knew the Student Welfare Committee, under the chairmanship of Joellen Middleton, was hard at work. I eagerly awaited the American Red Cross Drive, for I knew that Myron LaRowe and the Public Relations Committee would try hard to exceed the sum of last year's drive. When our own student directory "The Kat Kaller" went into circulation, we knew that Carolyn Catt and the Extra-Curricular Committee had spent many hours in its publication.

As the business of each session slowly became history, I again occupied the lime light in adjourning another meeting of Student Council. Bang!

Combining the officers of Student Council in the executive committee, this group discusses business to be presented in the sessions. ## Presenting The Feminine Angle

It was a heap big pow-wow! The first chance of every KHS maiden to invite her favorite warrior to one of the many activities throughout the year was the tenth annual Autumn Prom "Indian Love Call" sponsored by Girls' League. For weeks preceding the event, maidens worked industriously together planning and setting the primitive Indian scenes. The big night finally arrived, and the entire tribe of KHS maidens and warriors gave their sign of approval as they danced to the music of Johnny Davidson.

Working together to sell holly, cookies, Christmas wrapping paper, and candy, the girls helped to finance our Danish exchange student Kirsten Brandt. They enthusiastically backed the "Passport to Peace" program, as they and the Boys' Legion collected money to further the American Field Service program.

The climax of the League took place in the spring at the annual Mother-Daughter Reception where the girls honored their mothers. It was there that officers for the coming year were announced. An aura of suspense prevailed during the evening until the time the names were revealed in the impressive "Rose-Rope" ceremony. As the rope was severed, new officers and representatives stepped forward to take their respective places as links in the rose rope.

A great deal of thanks for the success of the Girls' League is due to its sponsors, Miss Estella Pearce and Mrs. Audra Lindley. Through the efficient guidance of these deans, all the girls in KHS strove together for the progress of Kokomo High School.

Penelope Grant, Girls' League President, welcomes Miss Dorothy Thornburgh and Dr. Walter Kent for coffee and doughnuts at the annual Teachers' Day open house.

To Faculty and Students

Continuing the annual tradition of the Girls' League Rose-Rope at the Mother-Daughter Reception are the new officers accepting their links in a long tradition.

Presenting the Masculine Populace

Behind the scenes of the magnificent 1957 Hullabaloo and the beautiful Stardust Ball was the Boys' Legion of Kokomo High School. With the returns from these two sparkling events and the enthusiastic help of its members, this organization performed many beneficial deeds in the school and community. It helped sponsor the American Field Service Program and bought an electric water cooler for the school.

Heading the male populace of KHS this year was Larry Ingle, president; Keith Frye, secretary; and Jerry Neal, treasurer. Giving the officers a big assist was the Board of Directors. The Board consisted of seniors Jim Beane, Eddie Payton, Jack Williams, and Ken Stouse; juniors Tom Beety, Bill Stifle, and Ralph Williams; sophomores Bill Kessler, David Long, and Jack Shutt; and freshmen Don Campbell, Steve Wood, and Jack Heflin.

Boys' Legion is under the competent leadership of Mr. J. Paul Jones, the Dean of Boys. Every boy who enters KHS automatically becomes a member of this group. The opportunities and benefits afforded by this large organization help all the young men of KHS.

Massing in the auditorium front, the entire cast and crew of the 1957 Hullabaloo symbolized the combined effort exerted in producing this all-school show.

Hullabaloo . . . Unity In Action

Mix sparkling costumes with breath-taking scenery, blend in exceptional talent, add the ingenuity of five directors, place on the stage for three weeks' direction; the finished product—the 1957 Hullabaloo!

Sponsored by the Boys' Legion, under the chairmanship of Jack Williams, this "show of the year" led two capacity audiences from the decks of the S. S. Hullabaloo, to many fathoms under the sea and to the South Sea Islands. Adding mystery and romance were Jon Bailey, Diane Ragains, Mauri James, Debbie Leffert, and J. D. Button, as they led a cast and crew of 400 through this nautical world.

Colorful marine marches and South Sea Island folklore were blended into this brilliant travelogue by Mr. Joseph Ragains and Miss Mary A. Fausset. A spirit of unity prevailed throughout every rehearsal as Mrs. Frank Kern, Mr. Karl Kiger, and Mr. Douglas North molded the student performers into semi-professionals.

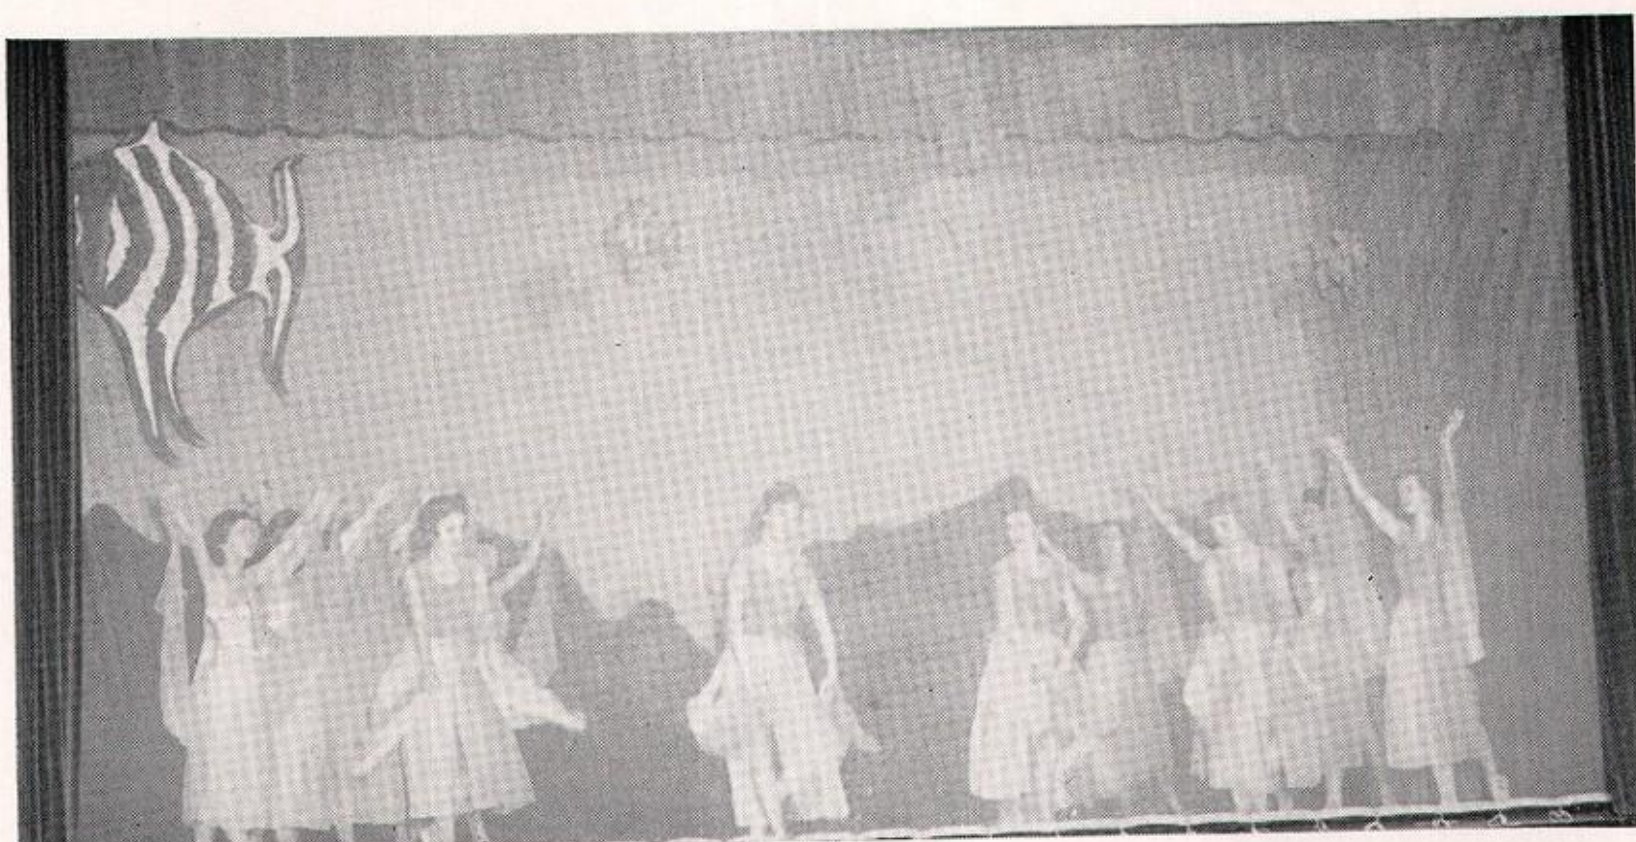

Behind-the-scenes work played an important part in the Hullabaloo's success. Many long hours were spent preparing the sets as demonstrated by James Adams, John Fewell, Albert Beihle, Tom Beane, and Allan Harnish.

The S. S. Hullabaloo Marine Band (the KHS Band) provides music for the christening ceremony as the ship prepares to cast off on her maiden voyage.

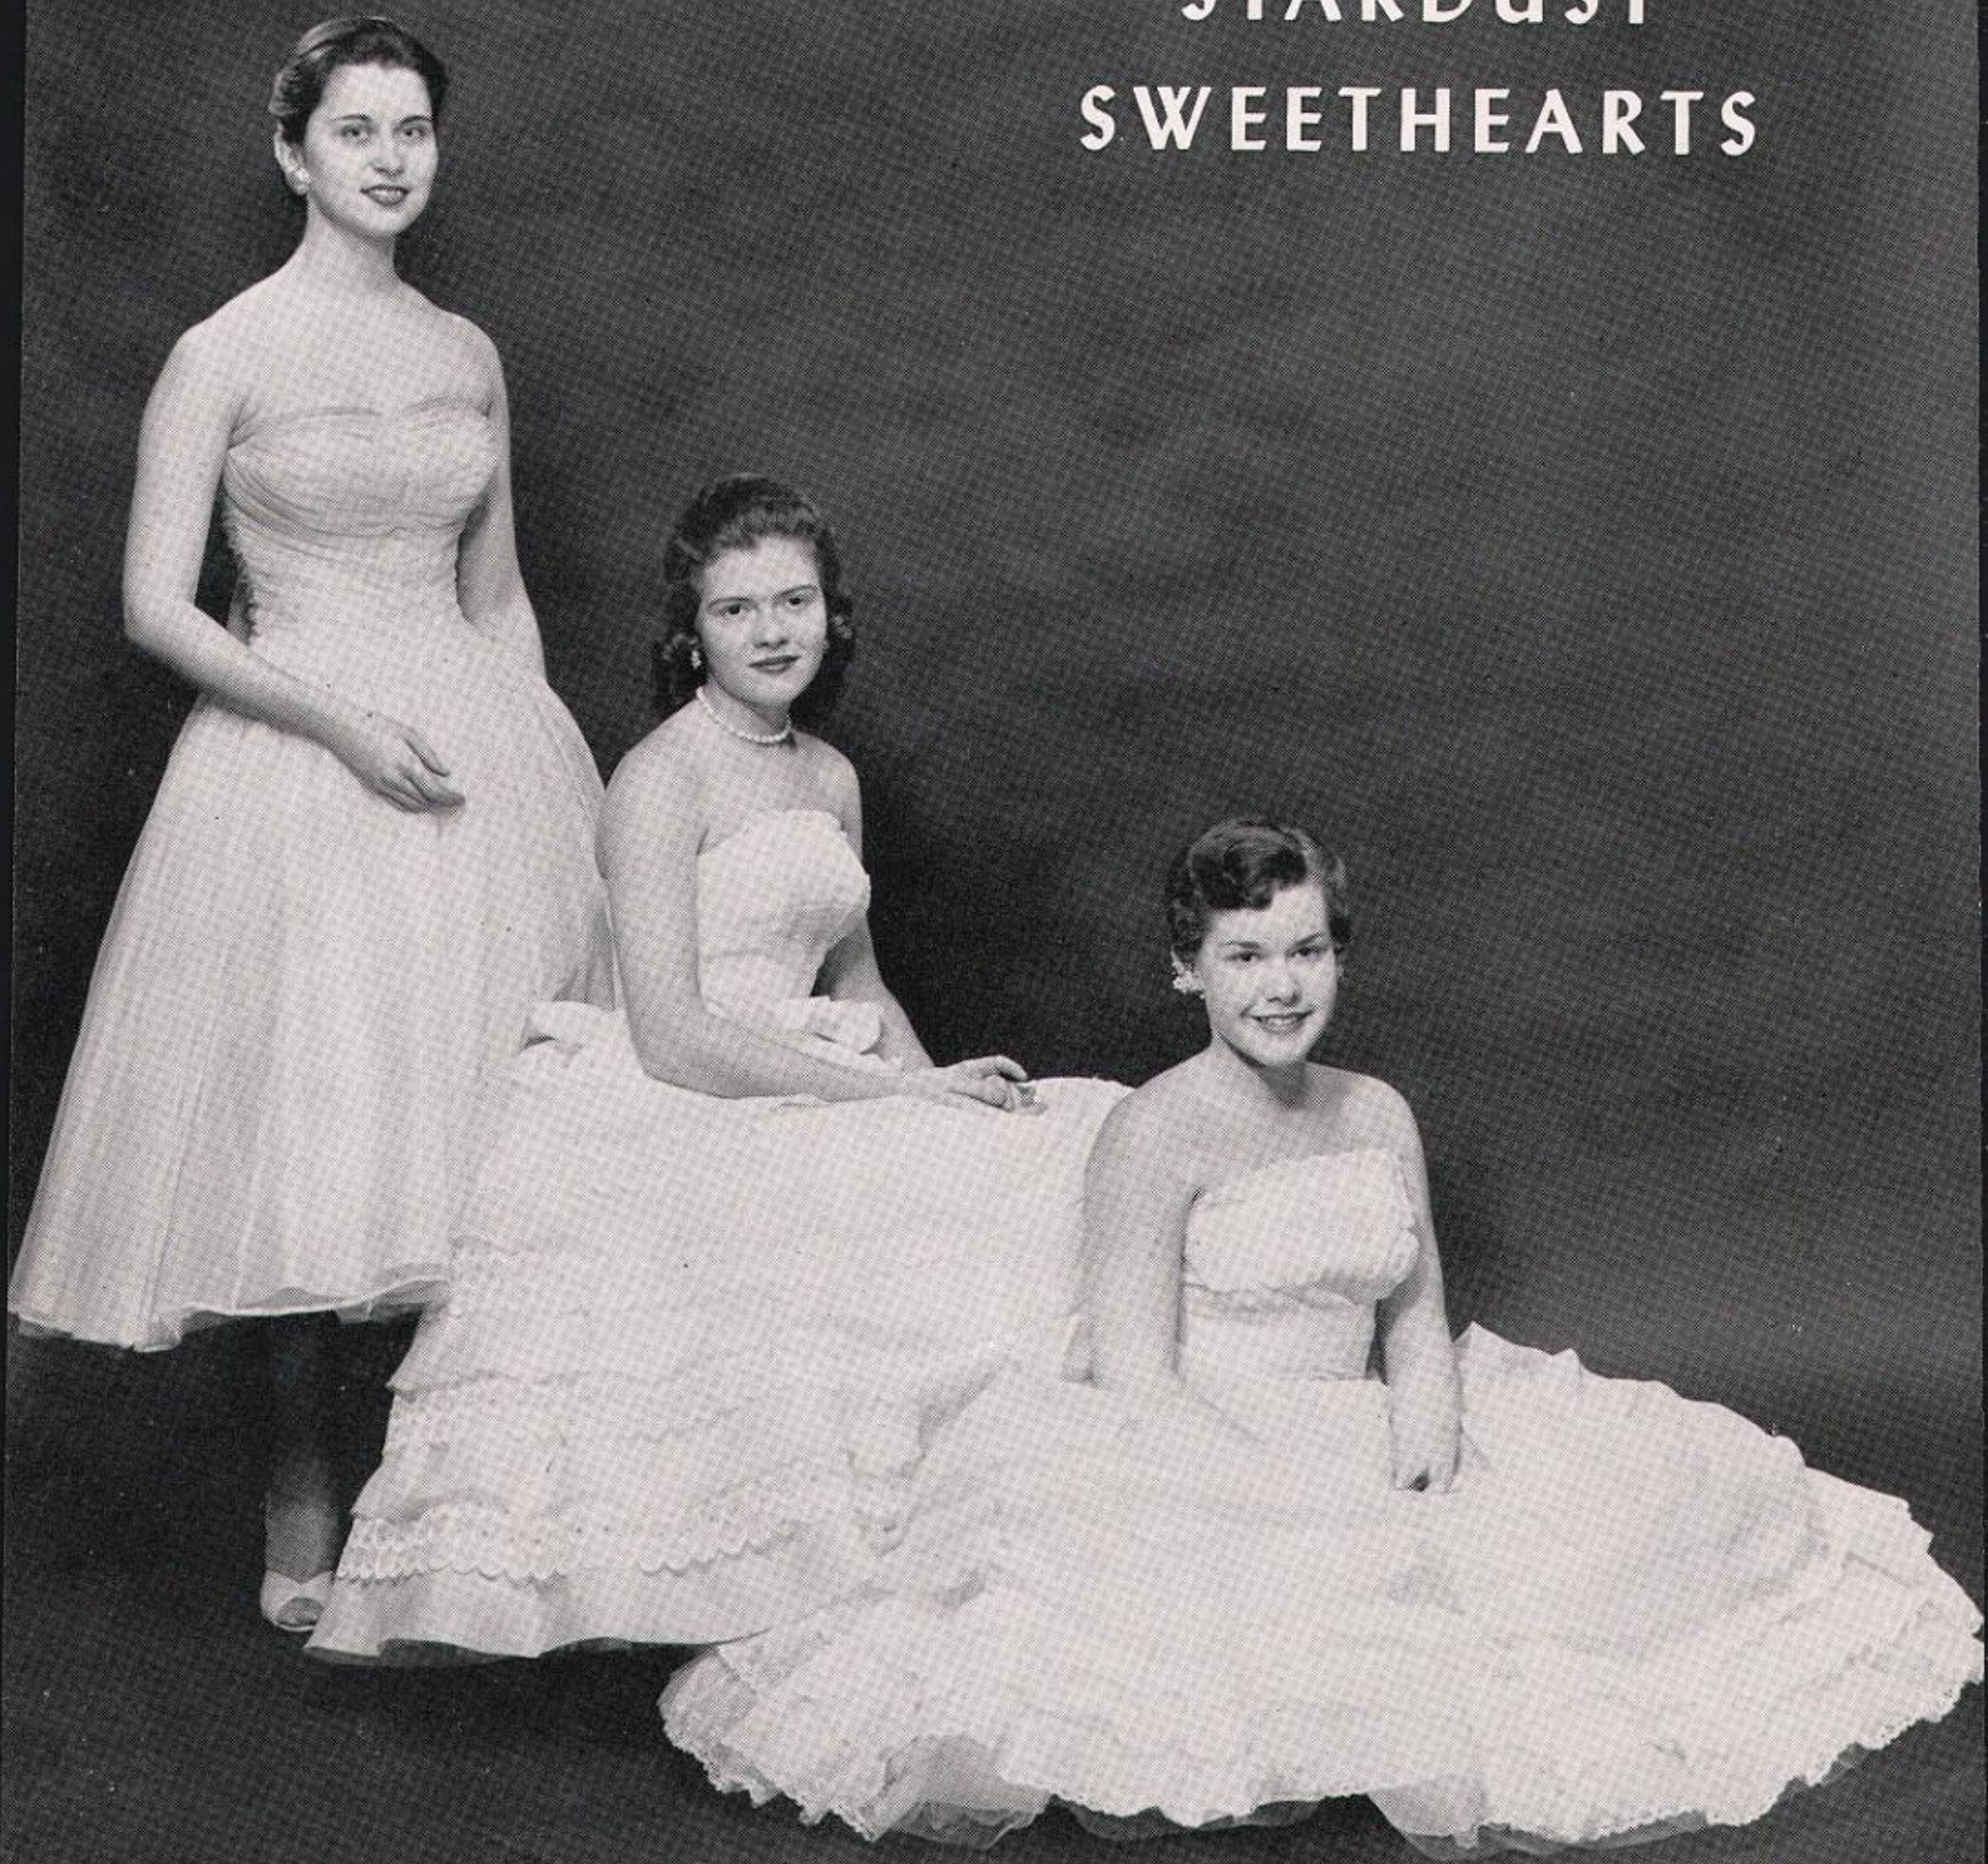

An illusion of many fathoms under the sea was created through a gauze curtain as these mermaids enhanced the scene.

On the shores at Waikiki were these beautiful Hawaiian hula dancers who set the scene for the travelers from the S. S. Hullabaloo.

Versatile Choristers

If "music soothes the savage breast," the Kokomo High School Choir is a highly civilized organization! Directed by Miss Mary A. Fausset, the Choir was continually occupied by a never-ending schedule of events ranging from the Elks Memorial Service to the glamorous Hullabaloo.

Tradition rated high with this choral group as they gave many annual concerts for local organizations. The Choir also brought the school many memorable programs. What students didn't thrill to the resounding halls as the Choir led the all-school carol-sing around the Christmas tree?

Participation in music festivals afforded opportunities for the members to blend their voices in song with students from other schools, while on our stage, the Choir carried a delighted audience to Katwyk-ann-zee in Holland as the music department produced Victor Herbert's The Red Mill. Donning the garb of Dutch peasants, the Choir members depicted various characters in this sparkling comedy.

Assisting Miss Fausset were the officers: Wilma Briggs, President; Debbie Leffert, Vice-president; Frances Johnson, Secretary; Vanetta Poppas, Treasurer; and Carol Coe, Accompanist.

"The Red Mill"

Words and melodies of Victor Herbert still echo in the halls as memories of the music department's production of The Red Mill linger in our hearts. Colorful settings, beautiful costuming, and good music contributed to a thrilling performance directed by Miss Mary A. Fausset, Mrs. Mildred Kern, Mr. Joseph Ragains, and Mr. Douglas North.

"Ring out, glad wedding bells." A joyous wedding climaxed the mysterious plot of the gay Victor Herbert musical.

Gridiron Marchers . . .

The cadence of the drums broke the fall atmosphere as the band marched into formation. Led by the drum major and majorettes, the 76 instrumentalists moved in brilliant crimson uniforms down the gridiron. It was not the football field alone that occupied the band's interests; the stirring music of basketball games, the glamour of a parade, and the concert music performed in various festivals all had a place in the busy schedule.

Among their many activities, one which will be long remembered is the "Calvacade of Music." In this program, the band joined the entire music department to present a memorable concert.

At times it was Sousa who reigned as king of the band's repertoire; in other moments the concert music of Von Weber prevailed; but whether it was rock'n roll or Beethoven, the band always met the occasion.

Directing the band was Mr. Joseph Ragains, who was assisted by the officers: Jim Porter, President; George Franklin, Vice-President; Pat Tomlinson, Secretary; Bob Thrasher, Manager; Diane Ragains, Drum Major; Dick Whiteside, Assistant Drum Major; Connie Cowell and Carolyn Davis, Librarians.

Extra - Curricular Budgeteers

Webster defines organization as "arranging into parts with the proper officials to carry out a scheme efficiently." This is the duty of the Organization Board in keeping our many school clubs operating smoothly.

These clubs must meet the rules and regulations established by the Board. For instance, each club can hold only one night meeting a semester. Also, they will meet every two weeks on the days assigned by the Board.

At the beginning of each semester, the various organizations submit an outline of their activities along with suggested improvements. In turn, the Organization Board sends these reports to the administration. The Board also checks the constitutions of the various organizations and approves the forming of new clubs.

Each spring, a boy and a girl from the sophomore class are elected by the Student Council to serve on the Organization Board during their junior and senior years. The faculty members are appointed by the Principal.

Student Board members for 1956-57 were Linda Vaught, Jerry Neal, Nancy Maher, Jerry Ashburn, Maureen Dalzell, and Bill Kessler. Faculty sponsors were Miss Elizabeth McIntosh, Miss Elizabeth Calhoun, Mr. Fred Mustard, Mr. Earl Utterback, Mr. Don Bartlett, and Miss Ruth Campbell.

Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character

THE FACULTY COMMITTEE
has the honor of informing you that you have been elected to membership in the
of the
 NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

These words were read by sixty students this year when they received their Honor Society invitations.

In the spring, the initiates were taken into the organization before the entire student body in an impressive ceremony. Lighted candles symbolized scholarship, leadership, service, and character; and the Society's colors of blue and yellow were presented to the students in the form of ribbons. The pledgship was climaxed with the annual banquet sponsored by the senior members.

Students must maintain high scholastic averages to be considered for membership. To attain the high honor of being selected, they must also have outstanding character and leadership.

Faculty sponsors were Mrs. Jane Jones, Miss Helen Railsback, Miss Helen Kay, Mrs. Alice Farrar, Mr. Warren Muncie, Mr. Walter Cross, and Mr. Joseph Powell.

Triangle's Aims Become Realities

Many projects were jointly sponsored by the boys and girls of the Y. The Hi-Y—Y-Teen Council met bi-weekly to discuss their plans for the year. Sponsoring the Snowball Dance provided the Council with hard work but much satisfaction, for this annual event was heralded as being highly successful. Selected to lead this organization was the president Bob Linzey with his assistant, Pat Hunt. For a detailed record of transacted business the minutes of Carolyn Harper were helpful. The income and expenses were kept by Barbara Bitner. The youth of the YWCA and YMCA were well represented on the Hi-Y—Y-Teen Council.

Reigning as King and Queen of the Snowball Dance were Carolyn Catt and John Fewell while they were assisted by the court: Phyllis Aldridge, Jerry Ashburn, Jan Hayes, John Gillam, Sharon Grist, and Steve Wood.

PALETTE CLUB

Canvas, Brush, and Palette

Civic projects were always in view as paint and brush were lifted in the Palette Club. With their primary service of window painting completed, the club started returning its profits to the community in the form of donations. Among these were a contribution to the YWCA swimming pool fund, and in collaboration with the fine arts classes, a very generous donation for Hungarian relief.

With their sponsor, Miss Bernice McKinley, the club took treats and small gifts to the people at the Howard County Home during the Christmas season.

Various members earned a total of eleven State Awards in the National Scholastic Art Exhibit and members also entered work in the Art Association's annual spring exhibit.

During regular meetings, various people entertained and informed them with discussion and demonstrations of different phases of the arts.

Keith Frye affixes his name to one of the many paintings which add to the gay Halloween atmosphere downtown.

As The Twig Is Bent . . .

Deep in the heart of some underclassman the dream of being a teacher created the need for a future teachers club for freshmen and sophomores. Quickly the dream expanded until it encompassed more than one underclassman and their need became known. Mrs. Cornelia Chapel and Mrs. Dione Mustard, with the help and cooperation of all interested students and faculty, undertook to form the Teachers of Tomorrow Club in which aspiring students could learn and discuss teaching as a profession.

Early in the second semester, the first meeting was held. Officers were elected soon afterward and the club began to be a real asset to freshman and sophomores as well as to the school as a whole.

Another first in KHS, the Teachers of Tomorrow Club is furthering and realizing the progress of underclassmen dreams.

... So The Tree Is Inclined

Teachers are needed! National population is increasing by leaps and bounds; and as it increases, the need for educators grows greater and greater. To promote interest in the teaching profession, the Future Teachers Club was formed. Students learn the requirements, the enjoyment, and the gratification of guiding others to knowledge.

A first in KHS was the cadet teaching program in which Janice Thompson and Wilma Briggs actually helped in grade-school classrooms for part of the day. In another progressive move, the Future Teachers Club joined the national Future Teachers Association this year.

Striving to fulfill the need of the nation, the Future Teachers Club is doing all possible to further interest in the teaching field.

Books . . . The Keys To Knowledge

A bee-hive of activity, the library, has assistants hustling about accessioning and lettering books. Others are checking attendance while caring for magazines and newspapers. Among the club's varied activities was their visit to the Hoosier Student Librarians' Association Conference. In sharing their knowledge with others, the club undertook a special project—processing and cataloging the Central School library. All Library Club members are assistants.

At the rendezvous of book-lovers, members of the Library Club are kept busy checking books and keeping them in order.

The Gift of Gab

Ah! the excitement of competition. Enthusiasm permeated the atmosphere of every speech and debate event the Speech Club of KHS participated in this year. Time spent in preparation and memorization of speeches and readings proved worthwhile when one's name was called as first-place winner.

Extensive traveling was done to such places as Columbia City, Lafayette, and Muncie as they went to compete in various phases of speech activity. The Purdue Legislative Assembly and Debators' Conference on the campus of Purdue was a high point in the year's activity. Debators attended panels, practice debates, and clinics on their debate topic, while KHS legislators busied themselves in the animated houses of Student Congress.

Valuable experiences were gained by Speech Club members as they met interesting personalities from schools throughout the state. Knowing what to speak and how to speak well is essential to a happy, well-rounded person, and as KHS orators learned this they gained confidence in expressing their opinions. Throughout the year fun and learning combined in memorable events to spur Speech Club members to greater heights in public speaking.

Promoters of World Understanding

Today, with jet propelled planes, atomic submarines, and turbo-jet test cars, it really seems as though the world is shrinking. More and more it is becoming essential for nations to co-operate in friendship and peace, and so the individual must strive to know about the affairs and actions of the entire world. The International Relations Club was formed for this purpose. Interested students meet together to discuss and analyze the actions and problems between countries.

On March 22, the International Relations Club went to the campus of Anderson College to participate in a model United Nations Assembly. KHS students posed as delegates of various countries representing that nation's viewpoint in the discussions.

Members, with their sponsors Mr. Fred Mustard and Mr. Alexander Bell, try to promote interest in international affairs. In discussing and reading about the problems of nations throughout the world, they have come to understand the actions of the United States more fully.

Lights, Curtain, Action

It was with a love for the theatre that the 65-member Dramatic Club was formed. Originated many years ago, this organization has a well rounded history—bringing comedy, mystery, and melodrama to the KHS stage. Membership in this group comes through a series of try-outs in which the candidates memorize cuttings to be given before the judges.

The club led the school in its fall activities as they produced the three-act play "A Man Called Peter," which depicted the life of the Scottish minister, Peter Marshall. The spirit of Christmas was instilled within us as the cast of "Why the Chimes Rang" turned in an inspiring performance.

However, the club's interest extended for many miles beyond our own proscenium arch. As a special activity, the club attended the five productions of the Purdue Playshop where they saw experienced acting in a university theatre.

The Dramatic Club with its history of many successes has brought to KHS an understanding of the stage and its many functions.

"Peter Marshall is going to be nominated Chaplain of the United States Senate."

Judy Hunter, Diane Ragains, Dick Chegar, Linda Vaught, Jon Bailey, Bill Gilbertson, Bill Boice, Jean Bushong, J. D. Button, Karlene Sciortino, Ed Seagrave, Marcia Aldridge, Nancy Hardy, Joe Van Dorn.

"A Man Called Peter"

A dynamic and different approach to Christianity which appealed to the youth of the nation was brought out by the Dramatic Club's presentation of A Man Called Peter.

Under the able direction of Mrs. Elsie Seagrave and her assistants, Mrs. Jane Hall and Mr. Douglas North, the play brought out the courageous warmth and human understanding of Peter Marshall and how the deep devotion of his wife, Catherine, kept him carrying on a great work.

The minister's difficulties were two old maids who objected to his being in the public eye. The Marshalls' strength and faith were put to a greater test than the sisters' when Catherine became ill with tuberculosis. Peter pulled his wife out of depression and renewed her faith in God and herself.

Peter developed a heart condition which restricted his active life. When offered the nomination of Chaplain of the United States Senate, Peter believed that God had given him his life and had the right to use it as He wished. He accepted the nomination in spite of his health, knowing that his life was to be dedicated in service to God. Said Peter, "When we are no longer afraid to die, then we begin to live."

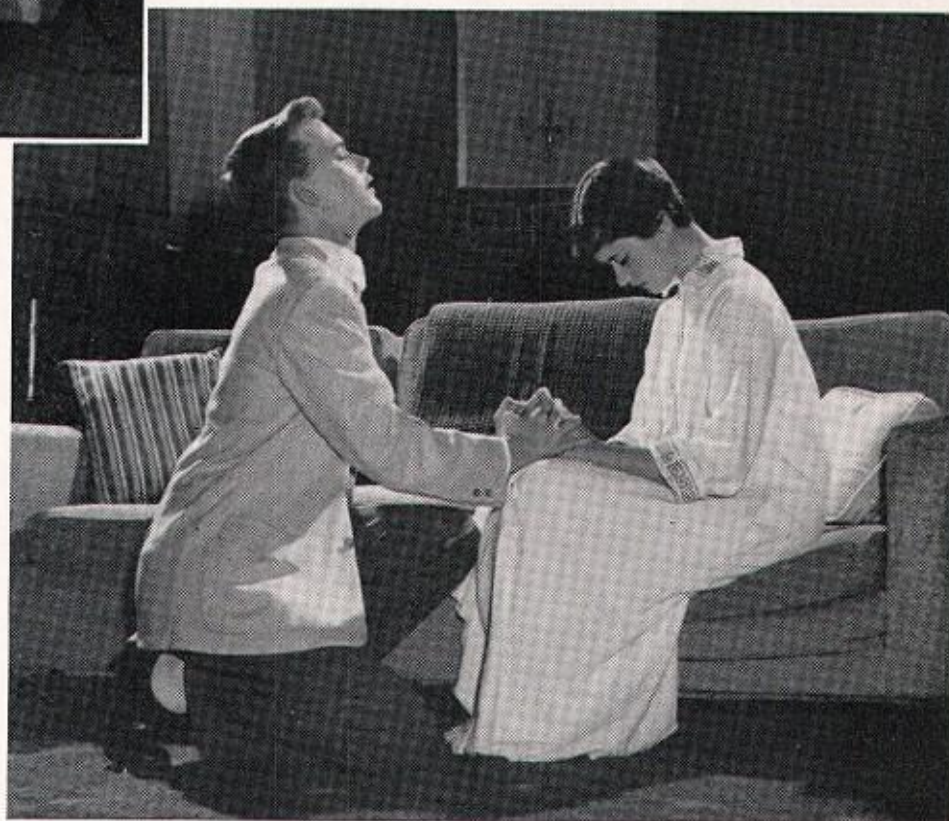

For the first time in the history of Dramatic Club, a play was repeated by popular demand.

"Yes, the greatest opportunity to serve Him I've ever had!" Jon Bailey, Ed Seagrave, Linda Vaught, Bill Gilbertson.

"We pray for those who need stronger hearts." Jon Bailey and Linda Vaught.

"'Oh, you take the high road and I'll take the low road!'" Diane Ragains, Dick Chegar, Bill Boice, Jean Bushong, Jon Bailey, J. D. Button, Linda Vaught.

Dramatic Craftsmen

Hammering the most elaborate set to sewing the tiniest button on a costume—these acts were symbolic of the various functions performed by the National Thespian Society. It might be said that the Society is a regular "Jack-of-all trades" as is their sponsor, Mrs. Elsie Seagrave.

A formal initiation in March, a breakfast in the spring, and a three-act play kept all Thespians going at a fast pace. Membership in Troupe 979 of this honorary dramatists' organization comes from serving one hundred hours as a stage apprentice. Last summer several students attended the National Dramatic Arts Conference where they were enlightened on the theatre and gained many ideas for their annual three-act play. Their many activities throughout the year truly exemplified the dramatic arts in Kokomo High School.

Depicting various duties of the future nurses are Judy Pearson, Carole Finley, Kathy Craig, and Nancy Utterback as they check charts, roll applicators, and prepare bandages.

Pulse, Blood Pressure, Temperature

"You had better put him to bed. Be sure to check his temperature and take his pulse!"

So ranged the conversation in a meeting of the Future Nurses Club as they delved into the honorable profession of nursing. At their bi-weekly meeting, these "ladies of the lamp" took trips to observe hospitals in action. In thinking of their education, the club visited schools of nursing, while their sponsor, Miss Esther Edwards, added helpful comments. Leading the group were the officers: Carol Finley, president; Maureen Meritt, vice-president; and Kathy Craig, secretary.

Feminine Athletes

"Oh, what a beautiful mornin'!" It was wonderful to wake up feeling eager for the day's challenge. The vigor felt in every nerve and every muscle is waiting to be used to accomplishing work and fun.

The members of the Girls' Athletic Association of Kokomo High School know of the benefits and enjoyment of physical exercise. Basketball, softball, soccer, volleyball, bowling, dancing, and camping are among the many recreational activities offered.

The highest goal of these athletes is the "Gold Locket." To earn it requires many points gained by attending meetings, participating in activities, and passing skilled tests. Cindy Caster and Nancy Larrison received this high honor in 1957.

Sharing their enjoyment of invigorating exercise, were Miss Imogene Winslow and Mrs. Marilyn Fredrick, who acted as sponsors.

Audio-Visual Promoters

Our education from the audio-video aspect was handled by the operators. Under the direction of Miss Fay Cover, these well-trained boys managed projectors and recorders efficiently.

Bible Students

"Rock of ages, cleft for me . . ." Strains of this favorite hymn winged through the halls whenever the Bible Club met for Bible study and religious discussions.

BIBLE CLUB

Click

For any student who may attempt to take a picture without a film or forget to put a flash bulb in the camera, we recommend our Camera Club where the techniques of photography were learned and demonstrated by the members.

Pfft! Bang!

The Science Club is at work! Even with an occasional effervescent reaction, this versatile organization greatly increased their knowledge through experiments and field trips.

SCIENCE CLUB

Second Row: Larry Bennett, Dick Budd, Ronnie Boyd, Larry Hollingsworth.

Absent: Dewaine Lightfoot, Vice-Pres.

Intercepted by monitor Jerry Woodward, George Franklin shows his pass slip.

Corridor Sentinels

"To pass or not to pass," that is the question. It is a question that faces all KHS students traveling during periods in these hallowed halls. Without that paddle or pink slip, you are sure to be stopped by one of the watchful monitors who are constantly on the alert for trespassers. Besides serving as the police force of KHS, they are aids to teachers and visitors. They occupy seats in most of the principal spots in the halls. The monitors are on their posts to help you, as well as to save much confusion and disorder in the halls.

MONITOR CAPTAINS

Third Row: Russell Bergman, Dennis Aerne, David Alexander, Richard Chegar, Gerald Evans.

Plotting and planning their way through manifold activities, Paul Ferry, Sharon Grable, Julia Horsman, Sherry Fierke, and Myron Henry, examine posters announcing coming events.

A home away from home! The familiar locker provides a store-house for everything from books to candy.

Memories Caught Forever . . .

Make-up male ballerinas Steve Overton and Bill Haywood find preparing for the footlights a grinding ordeal, while Kay Cross, Becky Heltzel, Donna Snyder, Joellen Middleton, Barbara Hughes, and Maureen Meritt find it quite commonplace.

A supply house for students could be the definition of the School Bookstore for it constantly kept us in those essentials for good class work.

... In Candid Camera Shots

In showing their outstanding efforts in the field of speech, (sitting) Sharon Grable, Devena Reed, Mr. J. Paul Kendall; (standing) Jon Bailey, Ron Baber, Marilyn Sue Clark, and David Peters have become members of the National Forensic League.

Early Challenge . . . Memorable Climax

To the juniors, a first challenge; to the seniors, a parting farewell; to both, the Junior-Senior Reception presented a climax to a busy year.

The theme was kept secret by the co-chairmen as the preliminary planning of many weeks was carried on behind closed doors. After the members of the various committees were appointed, the diligent work began. The constructing of a large tower for hanging crepe paper, the building of an elaborate coronation stand, the planning of the souvenir program—all this contributed to the success of the dance.

A regal aspect was added to the dance by the queen, nominated by the senior boys and selected by the juniors. The crowning of this beautiful girl highlighted the evening as the seniors danced their way out of KHS into the open world.

"Sometimes we watch the birds when there ain't no birds."

Harvey Comes to High School

The door swings open . . . silence reigns . . . another door opens and closes . . . and stillness again envelopes the empty stage. Harvey has just made his appearance at the Senior Class Play.

This big white rabbit, named Harvey, is the star of the 1957 Senior Play. Harvey's master and friend is Elwood P. Dowd, who leads a happy, carefree life. He enjoys everyone's company, and he loves to introduce everyone to his pal, Harvey.

Supporting Mr. Dowd in the story is his sister, Veta Simmons. She becomes convinced that Elwood needs psychiatric attention. The events that follow develop into a rollicking comedy.

Mrs. Mildred Kern, Mr. Douglas North, and Mr. Karl Kiger served as sponsors for the play. They worked diligently with the cast and all seniors who helped in any way with the big production.

With the money received from the play plus a contribution authorized by the School Board, the Class of '57 purchased a front curtain for the auditorium stage as their parting gift to the school.

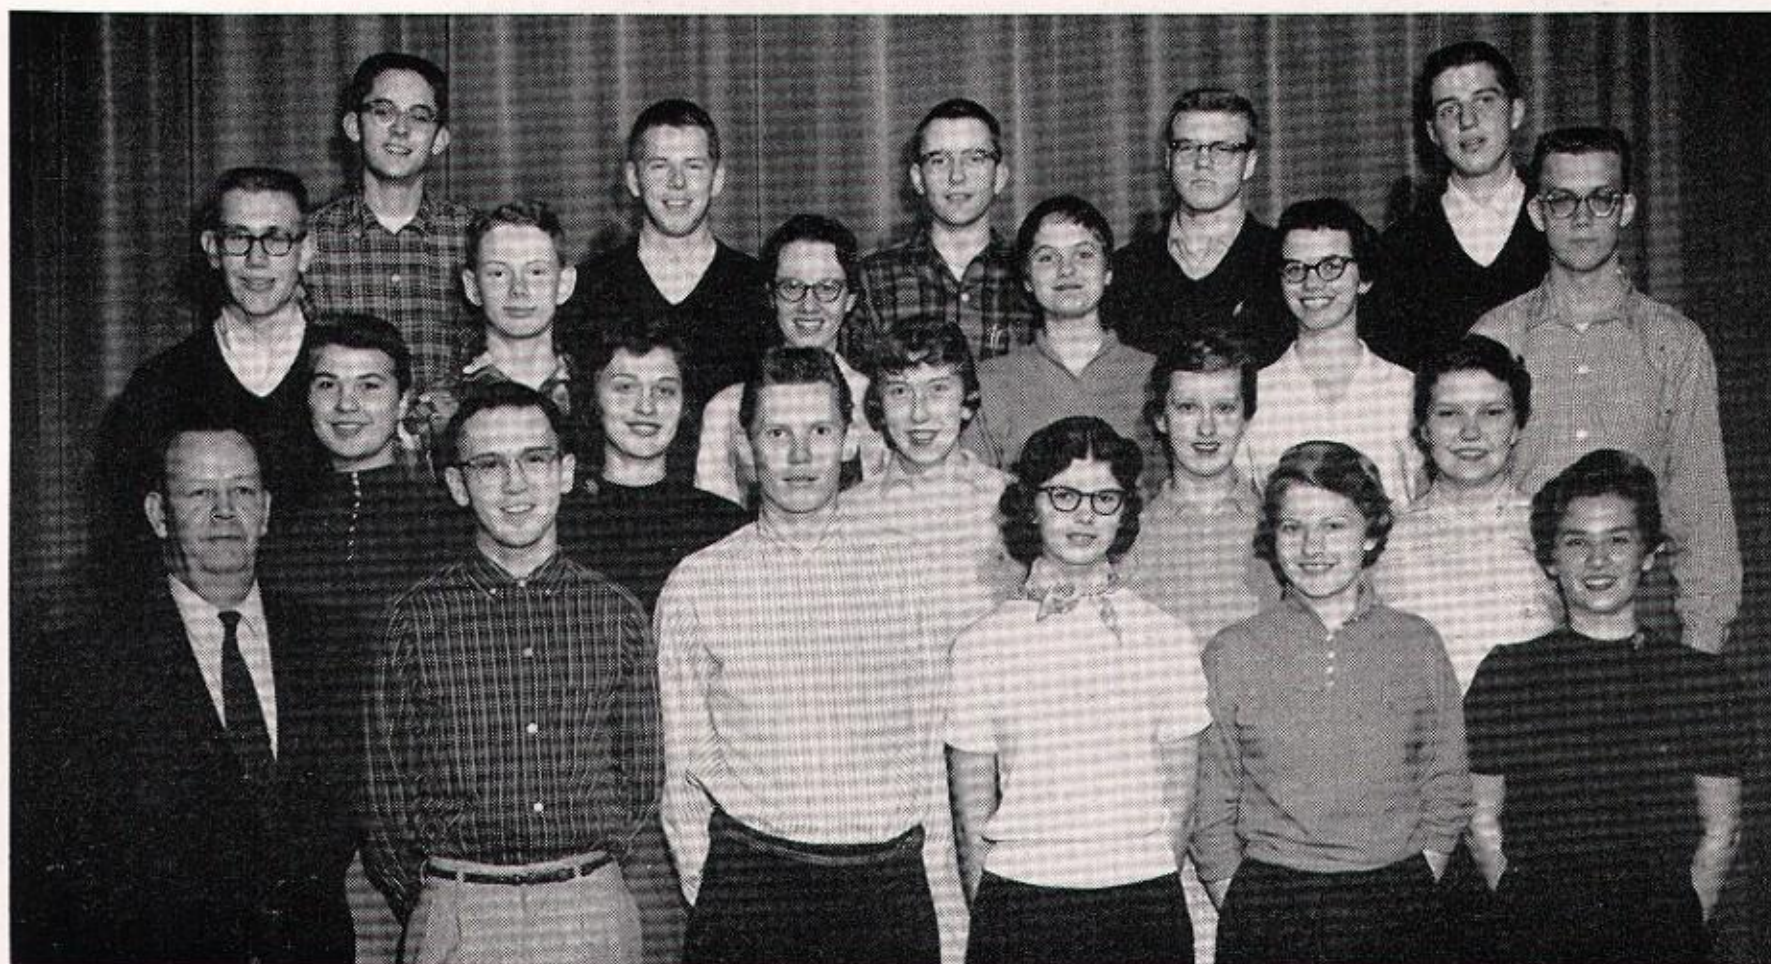

"I thought you were dead," says Barbara Lembke to Jean Bushong as Karlene Sciortino looks on.

"And, Doctor, sometimes I see that rabbit myself," says Karlene Sciortino to Bill Hahn (Dr. Sanderson).

"For rabbit's ears there must be two holes in this hat," says Gary Conwell to Vanetta Popas (Miss Kelly) and Bill Hahn.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Fourth Row: Chris Horst, Jerry Neal, Bruce Wooldridge, Scott Thatcher, Joe Van Dorn.

Mecca of Aspiring Journalists

Do you like fast moving reporting, scoops, the roll of the press? Then membership in the Quill and Scroll Society will further your journalistic efforts. Membership is limited to juniors and seniors who are in the upper third of their class. Students must have written eighty column inches or have done a comparable amount of journalistic work, be recommended by the sponsor of their publication, and be accepted by the National Secretary.

The KHS chapter, named for Robert Coughlin, former student, now on the editorial staff of LIFE, plays an important part in advancing journalism in our school.

LENS EDITORIAL STAFF

Fourth Row: Daphne Brandon, Mary Rose Thatcher, Margaret West, Susie Badger, Linda Moss, Mary Ann Herbert, Sharon Hall, Nancy Maher, Ruth Ann Grawcock.

Information Please

While most of the students were enjoying their summer vacation, the editorial and business staffs of the Lens were busy at work.

The Lens, a school handbook published annually by the Student Council, was published by a business staff who canvassed the town selling advertisements and an editorial staff who wrote about KHS customs, rules, classes, and extra-curricular activities.

Nancy Hardy was editor-in-chief while Maureen Meritt served as business manager. Mr. J. P. Jones was the faculty sponsor.

LENS BUSINESS STAFF

Third Row: Marjorie Poynter, Sharon Grable, Sara Pettit, Karen O'Harra, Sarah Miller, Carolyn Moore, Julia Horsman, Arlene Lewis.

Fourth Row: Juliann Conner, Elaine Meritt, Marjorie Baugher, Jane Miller, Ellen Reith, Connie Colter, Dee Alexander, Georgeann Treida.

Handling the task of editing the Red and Blue are (standing) Scott Thatcher, Janet Hines, J. D. Button, Bill Perry, Jackie Agnew, Sarah Miller, Janet Ulsh, (seated) Maureen Meritt, and Jerry Neal.

News, Features, and Editorials . . .

Nothing could be more interesting than a visit to this nucleus of activity—the Red and Blue room. First we see Jerry Neal, editor and chief, and J. D. Button, managing editor, hashing over a budget made shaky by one of the paper's new progressive moves—the enlargement from four to five columns per page.

Janet Hines, Sarah Miller, and Janet Ulsh, news editors, can be seen conferring with Jackie Agnew, feature editor, and Scott Thatcher, editorial editor, about potential stories for the next issue. Through the door comes Bill Perry, camera in hand, returning with some candid shots. Mr. Charles Franklin and Mrs. Mildred Kern, sponsors, discuss a layout change. Lewis Poe, business manager, busily computes the expenses and income, showing the paper to be operating in the black. Delores Hahn, advertising manger, and Vicky Carnes, production manager, prepare to go downtown to solicit advertisements from merchants which help to pay the cost of the paper. Ralph Williams, circulation manager, is busy with preparations for a sock hop which will head the new subscription drive. Maureen Meritt arrives to type the stories selected by the editors.

Soon the press of our KHS vocational building will roll out the completed paper under the supervision of Mr. Everett Mason. Meanwhile Jon Bailey, radio editor, and his staff are working on High School Carrousel produced every Thursday night. This 15-minute program includes sports, news, and fashions. On Friday morning the combined efforts of the staff are evident as the finished product, the Red and Blue, hits its distribution centers.

Voices across the air from "High School Carrousel" belong to Ed Seagrave, Jon Bailey, Jerry Neal, Barbara Lembke, and Vanetta Poppas, who presented an enjoyable 15 minutes of school news each Thursday night.

We Planned and Produced . . .

Wide-eyed and big-eared, we, the new Sargasso staff, listened intently as the old hands gave us a few words of wisdom at the annual banquet held in the late spring of 1956.

Summer sessions with our sponsors, Miss Elizabeth Handley and Mr. Warren Muncie, gave us an inkling of the immense task that lay beyond the doors of rooms 211 and 116X.

Leaping imaginations of Jean Bushong and Jon Bailey created visions of layouts, and they quickly came into being as the dummy was completed with the assistance of Mr. Frank Moore. Soon, a fury of activity throughout the school gave signs that our staff was at work. Stories flooded Room 211; pictures piled into Room 116X. It was a common sight to see Emily Kessler typing feverishly at 7:01 A. M. in room 211 or to see the auditorium packed with clusters of students eager to show our photographer, Mr. Evart Adams, a beautiful Pepsodent smile. Perhaps at one time you barely avoided a serious collision with Bob Linzey or Janice Thompson dashing toward the editorial room to meet a deadline.

... This Book For You

We felt a great relief of tension as we took the last few pictures to the engravers, Mr. Edward Barth and Mr. William Barth; and as we tucked the error-free manual under our arms after the final proofing and made that last trip to the printer, Mr. Russell Humphrey. Soon, our book was printed, bound, and delivered. Our work was finished.

Now, with our memories placed in our hands, we are suddenly jarred by a great realization. Our year together is over. We have worked together on that special project for the last time; we have banded together to cheer our team onward for the last time; we have met together for the last time to eat our lunch; we have worked together on a dance for the last time. Yes, our year is finished, but each of us is left with a common sentiment—we have made our year together.

Janet Remember the times of fun we had on the bus.
 I wish the best of luck in everything you attempt.

Dear Janet, I hope you are happy. I hope you are in good luck and stay sweet.
 Love, Bebie
